Area celebrating nation's 200th birthday

The Fourth of July, John Adams said, "ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires and illuminations..."

This Independence Day, marking the 200th anniversary of the United States, will be celebrated here and throughout the nation in a manner that planners believe would have pleased President Adams.

Many activities are to be held here this weekend and are described in articles in today's Press-Record. Highlight event will be Saturday's mammoth parade from Granite City through Madison to Venice.

Illustrations on this page trace part of the scope of the 1976 festivities, which will include public fireworks displays. The specific anniversary to be commemorated on Sunday, July 4, 1976, is the two-century period since the dramatic signing of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776.

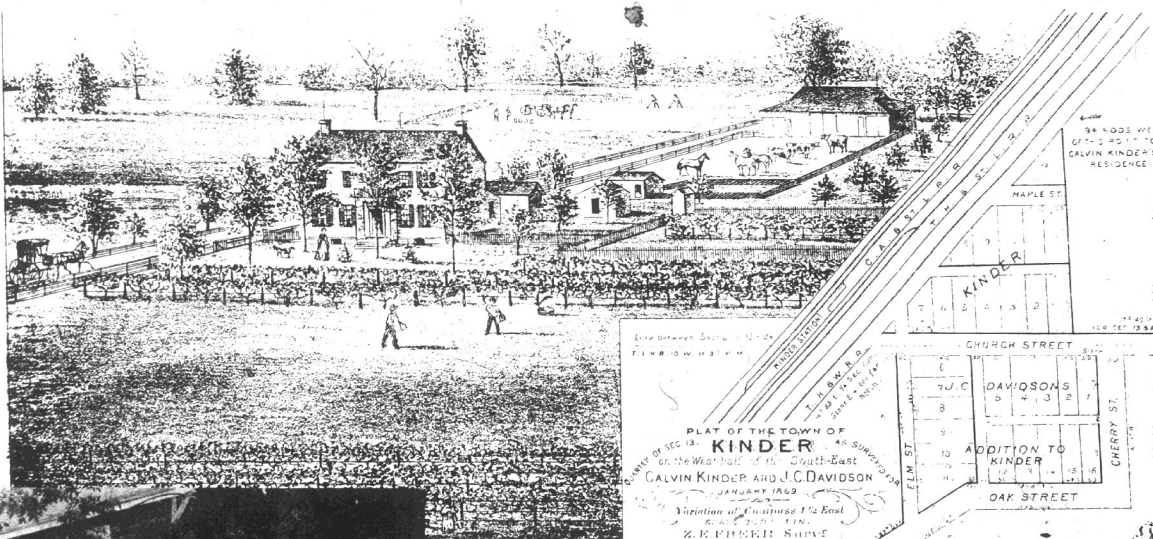

Also shown on this page are the plat of the original settlement of Kinder here and a current photograph of Six Mile House, perhaps the most historic local building still in existence.

In front of the structure in the Press-Record staff photograph is Mrs. Georgia Engelke, who is descended from a pioneer Quad-City family and who has done extensive research on this community's early years.

Before most present governmental entities were created, this area was known as Six-Mile Prairie and as Kinder Station.

The illustration accompanying the plat of the "town of Kinder" depicts the residence of Calvin Kinder in the southwest quarter of America... "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Perfection is not a quality of this world. But Quad-Cityans have a clear idea of not only where they've been, but where they are going—to a better, brighter tomorrow.

The accomplishments and setbacks, the heartaches and joys of local and national history serve as guideposts for their confident journey toward the future.

Not all of their wishes and hopes were fulfilled during the striving and strife of this nation's first 200 years. But they have set their sights firmly on realizing many of the unmet dreams of this, the land of freedom, during America's third century.

The Press-Record salutes their quest with today's issue commemorating the Bicentennial of the United States—America the beautiful, the brightest example of democracy, mankind's chief beacon of liberty.

HISTORIC LODGE building of the International Order of Odd Fellows, Six-Mile Lodge 87. It was built in 1853-54 across the street from its present location on Nameoki Road next to the Nameoki Fire Station. The building was moved by teams of mules across the street in 1880 and later had to be moved farther back when Nameoki Road was widened. In the photo is Mrs. Georgia Engelke.

EARLY FRAME SCHOOLHOUSE in the Quad-City area was constructed about 1852 and is still standing just off Country Lane, east of the Alton & Southern Railroad tracks. It was called the Ben Wood School, named after the man who donated the land for the school to Madison County. The structure is now a residence.

Buildings here recall 150 years of history, growth

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The approach of the nation's 200th birthday has brought new awareness of the history of this area and particularly of the part the Quad-Cities have played in America's development.

Much of the history here centers around the area's role in westward expansion of the U. S.

The local area, then known as the Six-Mile Prairie, supported major cattle drives, the Pony Express and railroads serving this region and points to the west.

Earliest known residents of Six-Mile Prairie other than Indians included the Wiggins family and an unmarried man, Patrick Hannberry, who settled in the Nameoki Township area north of Horseshoe Lake in 1801.

As it grew, it became known as the Six Mile settlement, being roughly six miles from the Mississippi River. Nathan Carpenter erected a grain mill, powered by horses, within the first few years that the area was settled.

The first school was opened by Edward Humphrey about 1836, constructed in the area of Route 162 east of State Aid Route 35.

The first school was opened by Edward Humphrey about 1836, constructed in the area of Route 162 east of State Aid Route 35.

There are no remaining traces of that building or of the second schoolhouse erected, a few years later entirely of poles put together by residents of the area.

That school was taught by Joshua Alwater.

The first frame school in the Six Mile area was constructed about 1852 and still exists just across the Alton & Southern Railroad tracks from Country Lane about a half-mile north of Stratford Lane.

The first frame school was named the Ben Wood School after a man who donated the land for the school to the community. Wood had no children but raised his nephew, Isom Johnson, who came here in 1857 at the age of eight. Johnson did not marry until he was 36 years old, in 1893, when he wed Miss Margaret Wilkins—a teacher at the Ben Wood School.

In 1914, construction of a larger school across the Alton & Southern tracks began. The school was opened in 1916 as the first Central (rural) School.

That school presently is the home of Julius Gieselmann, whose family has owned the land there for three generations. It is unrelated to the former Central School, located at 21st Street and Delmar Avenue until being razed.

The rural school was in use until 1951, when several schools in the area were merged and the children were assigned to the present Nameoki School.

One of the oldest known buildings still standing in the Quad-City area is Six Mile House on Route 162 about a mile east of State Aid Route 35. It is discussed in an article on the front page.

While the Six Mile House served mostly people and their horses, another roadhouse several miles east was well known among cattlemen and ranchers. The Stallings Road House, still standing just east of Stallings School on Route 162, was built in 1833 by Henry Stallings.

It also had food and sleeping rooms, and had the added advantage of pens and barns to keep livestock being driven to market in St. Louis.

Historians note that the Stallings Road House was known from New York to St. Louis for its hospitality and "bushy" service.

A post office also was established at the Stallings Road House about 1837.

Henry Stallings first came to Illinois about 1811, settling in the Dupu area. He came to this area—then known as Six Mile, due to its proximity to St. Louis, arriving here in 1833 with one horse and a yoke of oxen.

A successful rancher, he soon purchased 1,500 acres of land and expanded his stock until he became one of the largest stock growers in the area. History books note that he often drove as many as 2,500 hogs to market at one time.

After building the large Stallings Road House in 1833, he credited much of his success in its operation to his understanding the needs of the ranchers and cattlemen who stayed there.

When his daughter, Rosann nah, was eight years old, Stallings decided the area needed a school and gave an acre of ground for construction of a log schoolhouse which was constructed about 1836.

History books noted that the Stallings family once found a wounded deer and nursed it back to health, then setting it free.

In 1844, there was a massive flood in this area. The Stallings family got into a boat to avoid the rapidly rising water, but did not know which way to go to safety.

It is related that they saw the deer swimming past the house and followed it to safety.

Henry Stallings died in 1856 and his son, William Stallings, lived in the house for many years.

In about 1884, Rosannah Stallings married Marquis DeLafayette Moore and they moved into the home. Moore had been appointed postmaster in 1881 by President James A. Garfield.

The 1844 flood proved to be a major turning point in the history of the Six Mile area, which had been populated mostly by settlers from South Carolina, West Virginia and other southern states.

After the water receded, many of the settlers, frustrated by their periodic battles against the river, decided to return to the South and sold their farms to German immigrants.

The Germans felt comfortable in this area since it was similar to coastal areas of Germany they had left. They also were skilled in contouring the land and digging channels which kept high water from destroying their crops.

The Six Mile area—later made Nameoki Township in 1876—began to grow rapidly after 1844.

The pace set in the rapid rebuilding period seemed to continue long after destroyed structures were again standing. More and more new homes, churches, schools, industries and other buildings were being erected.

One of the first structures built during that period and which is still standing is Six Mile Lodge 87 of the International Order of Odd Fellows, built in 1853 and 1854.

The Six Mile Lodge was first instituted Jan. 2, 1851, and the group met in a farmhouse in the Chouteau Slough area until the new hall was constructed by Christian Brockman. He first came to this area in 1852 and worked on the levee for one year before beginning construction of the lodge.

Brockman received $15 a month for his work as he constructed first a small sawmill and then sawed all of the lumber necessary to build the hall.

He was the grandfather of John Brockman Jr., who still resides in Granite City.

When the lodge was completed in 1854, it was used as a church on Sundays and was the scene of numerous social activities as well as lodge meetings.

A charitable organization, the Odd Fellows also held many activities to raise funds for those in need. The lodge supported many homes, including a children's home in Lincoln, Ill., and a senior citizens' home in Mattoon.

In 1880, the giant lodge building was moved by teams of mules across Nameoki Road.

Later, the building had to be moved farther back on its plot when Nameoki Road was widened to four traffic lanes. Next door, to the north of the Odd Fellows Lodge, still stands the former Sons of Herman (pronounced Harmon) hall, erected about 1872. It was a benevolent organization with a membership exclusively of Germans.

Molke Lodge 15 of the Sons of Herman was organized Sept. 6, 1872 by Robert Frueger. He named the lodge after General Molke, under whose command he had been a soldier.

Despite floods, fires and a degree of disrespect for history which has seen many historic buildings demolished, there are numerous buildings in the Quad-City area with direct links to the pioneering years. All within a few minutes' driving time of each other, the structures vividly recall the more than 150 years of the 200-year span of America's founding growth.

It is noted that Calvin Kinder and J. C. Davidson in January 1869 were offering 240 acres for sale as building lots. Kinder Station is shown as the name of the local railroad station at the tracks near the Maple and Elm Streets area.

An early school, Kinder, was named for the pioneer resident. Constructed in 1858 and razed in 1913, it was situated near the present Emerson Grade School.

Railroads carrying freight and passengers here called the stop Kinder until Granite City was established in 1890. Records show that in 1817, a group of Pennsylvanians including the Kinder, Braden and Hawk families had boarded flatboats at Wheeling, W. Va., and drifted down the Ohio River, eventually landing at St. Louis. They bought land at and near the site of Granite City.

Their cabins comprised a loosely-knit settlement in a district known as Six-Mile Prairie. The name evolved from the flat land and the fact that the area was about six miles east of the Mississippi River.

A road built of planks and known as the Plank Road stretched from Edwardsville through Nameoki and Venice Townships and to the river.

Six Mile House was constructed along this road for use as an overnight rest stop for cattlemen and other travelers. The earliest recorded history of Six Mile House was in 1832, when it was mentioned as a stagecoach stop. It was believed constructed about 1834, the date found on doorknobs in the house.

It was constructed with a large dining room and living quarters for the owners on the first floor and two large bunkhouse-type bedrooms on the second floor. Historians relate that men slept in the bedroom on one side of the house while women slept in the room on the other side.

A post office was added onto the east side of the building in 1837. The addition since has been demolished.

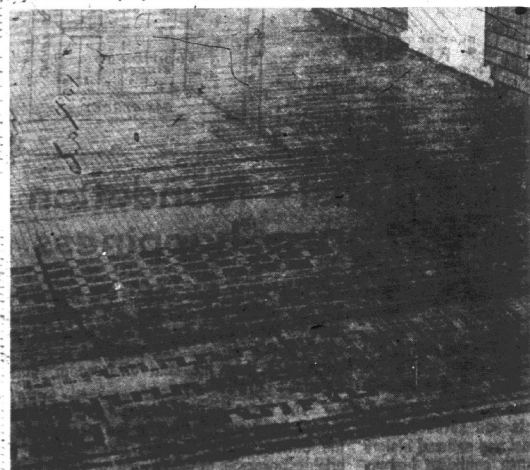

The foundation of the post office was found recently when a gas line was being installed underground to a tank west of the house.

A barn and a blacksmith's shop also were erected on the property, to care for the horses of the travelers and stagecoaches overnight.

One of the features of the house today is the large wine cellar in the stone basement. The wine cellar is now being remodeled by the occupants.

The entire house was remodeled once in 1880 and then again when purchased as a residence in 1936.

The building is located on Route 162, then the Plank Road, a mile east of State Aid Route 35 in Nameoki Township. There are two doors in the front, one for the overnight business and the other for the living quarters of the people who originally owned the property.

HAND-DESIGNED MOSAIC PATTERNS decorate the front porch of what is known as the Six Mile House on Route 162. Travelers walked over these tiles for about a century. The earliest recorded history of the building showed it as a stagecoach stop in 1832, but doorknobs inside the building are dated as early as 1824. A photo of the front of this building is on today's front page.

LOADING BOAT to evacuate his family, the late Alexander Brown, boat in background, takes his children in a "borrowed" skiff from their home at 17th Street and Delmar Avenue in the 1903 flood. Long skirts and cumbersome garments made activities such as this difficult. Miss Estella Brown, 91, of Granite City recalls. She believes today's pantsuits are the thing for women to wear and wishes they had been in mode when she was a girl.

FIRST PASSENGER CAR over the "immense new passenger bridge of the McKinley System" at Venice was Car 221, which arrived in Granite City at 2:36 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 20, 1910. Miss Estella Brown, 2231 Edwards St., among the first passengers using the line to get to work in St. Louis, has preserved this picture with other souvenirs of that era. Just three weeks later (Oct. 6), this car and a Springfield car bound for Valedictorian activities in St. Louis on the McKinley line crashed head-on near Staunton, killing 41 people and injuring more than 30.

Varied Bicentennial activities at GC park

Bicentennial and Fourth of July festivities at Wilson Park moved into full activity last night with midway rides, concessions stands operated by local groups and a free country-western show at the ice rink pavilion.

Special events will continue at the park through Sunday night, July 4.

Dr. Quack is visiting with youngsters attending a matinee session from 2 to 4 p.m. today at Wilson Park and Corky the Clown will greet children at a second matinee period from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday.

At both matinees, reduced rates are being charged on all carnival rides.

"Variety" show performances are scheduled at 7:30 and 9:30 tonight at the Wilson Park rink pavilion, featuring a magician and whipsnapping, rope twirling and balancing acts. The public is invited to attend either performance without charge.

Tonight and Friday, midway rides and concessions will open at 6 o'clock with a "mammoth fireworks spectacular" even eclipsing the previous evening's presentation, according to Harold Brown, director of parks and recreation.

O'Dowd and Sondra's "scintillating sorcery" will headline the variety show tonight. Their performance is given with a "touch of blarney," and O'Dowd's talents as a magician have been acclaimed by reviewers. The two are billed as "international stars of magic" and have appeared at the Osaka Royal Hotel in Japan, in Hong Kong and Taiwan and many areas of the United States, including Boston, St. Louis and Philadelphia.

"The Claytons," who will pass over the "immense new passenger bridge of the McKinley System" as it was just a few years ago, instead of Tuesday, Sept. 20, 1910.

The train ran to the bridge under its own power. But the trolley wires were not yet strung over the bridge, so the car had to be attached to a steam engine to take it into St. Louis.

Prior to the opening of the McKinley Bridge and the start of the "dinky line," opened early to exchange passengers between Illinois and Missouri in time for the World's Fair in St. Louis, Miss Brown rode to work on the local train over the Merchants-Terminal line.

She would alight at Third and Washington in St. Louis from where she walked "train or shine, cold or hot weather, to Ninth and Washington."

A seamstress, Miss Brown worked at a glove manufacturer firm in St. Louis for 17 years. Then she was employed by Rawlings Sporting Goods, making "baseball gloves and every other kind of athletic equipment for nine years."

"When everybody was being laid off during the Depression years of the 1930s, she retired and stayed at home to help take care of the two-year-old daughter of a sister, whose husband had died suddenly."

Later, Miss Brown returned to the working force and operated a dry cleaning business in St. Louis for many years.

Memories of an early Granite City are stored inside the alert mind of the 91-year-old.

"There was one store, Rosenberg's. They sold dry goods and groceries. There was Buente's for shoes."

"You bought your meat from a wagon which came around the streets, and there was one church, the Methodist. There wasn't any Catholic church, nor any other kind."

"I've seen Granite City grow from a small town where everybody knew everybody else. It has changed."

"My sister Mable taught primary grade and she would go out on Sunday and gather up every kid she'd see on the streets. It didn't matter if they were dirty, or if their clothes were ragged; she'd cart them off to Sunday school.

"If any family missed a child they could always figure Mable had taken him to Sunday school. You couldn't do that now."

"They had marched out of Kinderhook School the summer we moved here and closed down the building, so I was in the first class at Emerson," Miss Brown said.

She can repeat the names of her classmates and her instructors—Cassie Listerman, Professor L. T. Frohardt, Miss Emily Pettigill and Professor Ganz—and recalls anecdotes about each.

The late Albert L. Stevens, former longtime city clerk of Granite City, was among her fellow class members, as were Kate Gould, Harriet Clare, Barbara (Zorba) Mueller, Lena Steffens, Bob Thomas and Edna Niedringhaus.

"The flood in 1903 was a pitiful thing. They had been sandbagging on the Sunday when the levees broke. It just couldn't hold it (the river)."

"Father had to run for his life along Niedringhaus Avenue, the water came so fast. Mother baked her own bread, of course, and she had about 100 pounds of flour on hand. She was baking bread for everyone around."

The river water came up to the knees of the boys, she said, at the next block, the water stood inches deep inside the houses, she said.

Alexander Brown, her father, was born in Texas, the son of a shipmaster who drowned in the Gulf of Mexico. He was reared by Edward Kortkamp, a wealthy St. Louis businessman who was dealing with the Niedringhaus' trustees and helped to finance certain ventures of the "boys," Miss Brown recalls.

"Father was well acquainted with the Niedringhaus boys for 60 years and worked as their foreman at the Stamping Works."

While he was head of the tin heaters, he was making hats, but employees asked him how long it takes to become a foreman, Miss Brown said.

"Father told the young man to take his advice and go into the mortuary business." The ambitious young man was Edward Brown, she said.

"He always said he'd never forget my Dad for that advice he gave me," Miss Brown said.

"Lots of girls worked at the Stamping Works, most of them dipping the enamelware," Miss Brown noted.

She displayed a coffee pot and a tea set given to her parents on their 25th wedding anniversary. The pots are white enamel with handpainted decorative borders.

One of her favorite people when a young boy was the late Lloyd "Curly" Harris, former state representative and a good friend of the Brown family.

"After Curly's mother died, his father was left with three children to care for. Curly was an exceptionally smart boy, but I had a hard time chasing him to high school at first. He finally finished and we were proud of his accomplishments," Miss Brown said.

An avid reader, she reads "all the literature I can get my hands on. I can read anything. I don't care much for television, but I do listen to the radio, especially the news programs."

Miss Brown eats "pretty good, lots of vegetables" and cooks for herself. She goes to bed "fairly late," between 11 p.m. and midnight, and sleeps well.

"I have a good neighbor who keeps an eye on me. She is a fine person," Miss Brown was speaking of her next-door neighbor, Mrs. Greg Shako.

Miss Brown and her brother, Roland C. Brown, 82, made their home together until he died on April 22, 1976.

She has two sisters surviving, Mrs. Columbia Davis of Granite City and Mrs. Cornelia Hewlett of Chicago, whose daughter, Patricia, she helped to rear.

Estella Brown looks 20 years younger than her 91 years. She is slim, wiry, alert and well-read and her conversation is stimulating.

Her description of life in early Granite City, as seen through her own twinkling eyes and recorded in rich memories, may be the best kind of "Chamber of Commerce commercial" for a town who was just being established a long lifetime ago.

One of her favorite people when a young boy was the late Lloyd "Curly" Harris, former state representative and a good friend of the Brown family.

"After Curly's mother died, his father was left with three children to care for. Curly was an exceptionally smart boy, but I had a hard time chasing him to high school at first. He finally finished and we were proud of his accomplishments," Miss Brown said.

An avid reader, she reads "all the literature I can get my hands on. I can read anything. I don't care much for television, but I do listen to the radio, especially the news programs."

Miss Brown eats "pretty good, lots of vegetables" and cooks for herself. She goes to bed "fairly late," between 11 p.m. and midnight, and sleeps well.

"I have a good neighbor who keeps an eye on me. She is a fine person," Miss Brown was speaking of her next-door neighbor, Mrs. Greg Shako.

Miss Brown and her brother, Roland C. Brown, 82, made their home together until he died on April 22, 1976.

She has two sisters surviving, Mrs. Columbia Davis of Granite City and Mrs. Cornelia Hewlett of Chicago, whose daughter, Patricia, she helped to rear.

Estella Brown looks 20 years younger than her 91 years. She is slim, wiry, alert and well-read and her conversation is stimulating.

Her description of life in early Granite City, as seen through her own twinkling eyes and recorded in rich memories, may be the best kind of "Chamber of Commerce commercial" for a town who was just being established a long lifetime ago.

Every kid she'd see on the streets. It didn't matter if they were dirty, or if their clothes were ragged; she'd cart them off to Sunday school.

"If any family missed a child they could always figure Mable had taken him to Sunday school. You couldn't do that now."

"They had marched out of Kinderhook School the summer we moved here and closed down the building, so I was in the first class at Emerson," Miss Brown said.

She can repeat the names of her classmates and her instructors—Cassie Listerman, Professor L. T. Frohardt, Miss Emily Pettigill and Professor Ganz—and recalls anecdotes about each.

The late Albert L. Stevens, former longtime city clerk of Granite City, was among her fellow class members, as were Kate Gould, Harriet Clare, Barbara (Zorba) Mueller, Lena Steffens, Bob Thomas and Edna Niedringhaus.

"The flood in 1903 was a pitiful thing. They had been sandbagging on the Sunday when the levees broke. It just couldn't hold it (the river)."

"Father had to run for his life along Niedringhaus Avenue, the water came so fast. Mother baked her own bread, of course, and she had about 100 pounds of flour on hand. She was baking bread for everyone around."

The river water came up to the knees of the boys, she said, at the next block, the water stood inches deep inside the houses, she said.

Alexander Brown, her father, was born in Texas, the son of a shipmaster who drowned in the Gulf of Mexico. He was reared by Edward Kortkamp, a wealthy St. Louis businessman who was dealing with the Niedringhaus' trustees and helped to finance certain ventures of the "boys," Miss Brown recalls.

"Father was well acquainted with the Niedringhaus boys for 60 years and worked as their foreman at the Stamping Works."

While he was head of the tin heaters, he was making hats, but employees asked him how long it takes to become a foreman, Miss Brown said.

"Father told the young man to take his advice and go into the mortuary business." The ambitious young man was Edward Brown, she said.

"He always said he'd never forget my Dad for that advice he gave me," Miss Brown said.

"Lots of girls worked at the Stamping Works, most of them dipping the enamelware," Miss Brown noted.

She displayed a coffee pot and a tea set given to her parents on their 25th wedding anniversary. The pots are white enamel with handpainted decorative borders.

Floats ready for giant 200-year parade Saturday

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Saturday will be "Bicentennial Parade Day" in the Quad-Cities and area youth, service, civic and social groups, together with industrial firms, businesses and city-owned protection units, are geared to present a lavish spectacle for viewers, adding lifetime memories of the nation's 200th anniversary year.

Starting at 11 a.m. Saturday, at 30th and 28th Street, and Madison Avenue, the caravan of marching bands, decorated flatbed, tractor-trailer and pickup trucks, Clydesdale horses, musical ensembles, clowns, dances and expertly constructed floats will proceed south on Madison Avenue through Granite City and Madison to Broadway and Klein Street in Venice.

Thousands of hometown residents and friends from neighboring communities are expected to line the parade route to witness what promises to be possibly the largest combined assembly of motorized and marching units in Madison, Venice and Granite City history.

Leading the cavalcade as parade marshal will be four-star General Andrew Jackson Goodpaster, retired supreme commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces and a native son of Granite City.

The World War II hero served as director of the Joint Staff of the Joint Chiefs of Staff from August 1966 to April 1967 and was third-ranking member of the U.S. delegation for the Paris negotiations with North Vietnam.

Gen. Goodpaster is a past commandant of the National War College and held the posts of commander in chief of U.S. European Command, and supreme allied commander, Europe, in 1969.

Born in Granite City, he graduated from Granite City High School in 1931 and attended McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., and the U.S. Military Academy, West Point, N.Y.

Gen. Goodpaster will greet friends, classmates and members of the armed forces at a reception in his honor in the Officers Club of the Granite City Army Installation from 3 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

The parade marshal will be accompanied in the lead limousine by U.S. Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis).

Also at the head of the parade will be Major General Ralph S. Saunders, U.S. Air Force, Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, Brigadier General Robert S. Young, U.S. Army Reserve Components, Personnel, Administration Center, St. Louis, and Colonel Alton L. Luick, U.S. Army Troops Support Command, St. Louis.

The military officers, who will serve as parade judges, also will travel along the marching route to Venice and then to the reviewing stand at 15th Street and Madison Avenue.

First-place awards will be presented to three units in the parade, as determined by the visiting military guests and their staffs.

The winning units will be modified at the dispersal point (Broadway and Klein) and each will be directed to an area through the south gate of the Granite City Army Installation on Bissell Street, Venice, where presentation of awards will take place and designated floats will be photographed.

Richard Chosich, coordinator for the Quad-City Bicentennial Parade Committee, today reminded parade units wishing to return to Granite City after the route is traveled to turn right (north) at Broadway and Klein Street (Venice City Hall), travel north on Klein to Bissell Street and turn left (west) on Bissell to the south gate of the military base.

These units will be directed through the installation proper to the north gate at Niederhous Avenue, eliminating backup traffic congestion between units already having completed the parade circuit and those still enroute along Madison Avenue, Chosich said.

Units wishing to return to Madison are to turn right at Broadway and Klein, continue north on Klein to Bissell and turn right (east) on Bissell, crossing the railroad tracks into Madison at Market and State Streets.

Alternate routes or detours around the parade route itself will be directed by police officers from Venice, Madison and Granite City.

The mayors of the four communities—Paul Schuler of Granite City, Mike Sasyk of Madison, William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice and Floyd D. Moss of Ponton Beach—will be prominently positioned in the parade cavalcade, along with civic leaders and elected officials, including U.S. Sen. Dick Durbin, U.S. Rep. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis), and U.S. Rep. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis).

Hundreds of students will be among the parade marchers and each local school district will be represented by a marching band, with units from Granite City High School, Venice High School, Madison School District 12 and Venice School District 3.

They will be joined by the Lovejoy School Band, the Aina Temple Brass Band, the Hornets Drum and Bugle Corps of Granite City, the Happy Strings Junior Tambourines.

Marching units and specialist platoons will be interspersed throughout the parade, including the Soldan High School Drill Team from St. Louis, the 120-member Scherettes Baton Drill Team of Belleville; Venice Pom Pom Girls; the Nativity of the Virgin Mary; Balalaika Orchestra and 40-foot truck; and National School of Music marchers, clowns and decorated truck.

The Aina Temple will be represented by the Rolling Nobles, Hospital Unit with music and the Compacts.

The Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City will have a special float dedicated to Our Lady of Guadalupe and 35 people walking in costume. The New Port Homecoming Association will bring its pom-pom girls marching unit and truck float, and a contingent of clowns will appear here from the Alton area.

The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and the Madison Fire Department will have special units in the parade, as will Madison Senior Citizens and their Kitchen Band, whose segment also will feature an "old" fire truck and fire chief's car and a 65-foot float.

Six massive Clydesdale horses provided by the Carrollton Beverage Co. will capture the eye of youngsters and senior viewers alike and more riders will be present from the Trailriders Saddle Club of Granite City, plus the Ed Kasper team of six horsesmen.

Police vehicles, vans, flatbeds and trucks, some up to 50 feet in length, lowboy trailers, 40 feet and longer, fire trucks, ambulances, buses, including the Bi-State Bicentennial Bus, pickups and self-propelled vehicles will be among the motorized units in the parade.

Many of the participating units will have more than one section.

The parade coordinator reported that all units must assemble no later than 10 a.m. Saturday at the starting point.

Large floats and trucks will assemble on either side of Madison Avenue, stretching north of 28th Street to Nameoki Road. Each unit has been assigned a number and a starting position, Chosich said.

The two segments (marching and motorized) will intersect as the individual unit's number indicates, to merge into one continuous line at 28th Street and Madison Avenue and travel south on Madison Avenue to Broadway, Venice.

Open bids on equipment for volunteer police unit

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors Monday night opened bids for a police car which is proposed for use by a new Nameoki volunteer police unit, patrolling Nameoki Township precincts 3, 5 and 11.

About seven volunteers have trained and been certified as "supervisors of safety" under Madison County Sheriff John Maera.

The township has offered an $8,900 grant from federal revenue sharing funds to aid the equipment in purchasing the equipment necessary to begin operations. Bids were opened by the board Monday night on a police car, radio, lights, sirens and other necessary equipment.

Bids on uniforms and leather goods are to be opened later.

Only one bid was received on a police car. Bo Beckman Ford offered a police package Ford Torino for $4,799.

Two bids were opened for electrical equipment, including police lights, radios, antennas, a siren and other equipment. Radi Com of Troy bid $1,349 for the equipment installed and Advance Communication of Fairview Heights bid $1,389 installed.

A third bid was received from Harbor Sales of Godfrey offering a police radio and antenna for $449 and a citizens band radio and antenna for $159.

Installation would be extra. The bids were referred to the township's finance committee for study and a recommendation.

Petitions have been started to halt the creation of the department and opponents said they are attempting to obtain a court ruling on whether the supervisors of safety would have the authority to carry guns.

The Nameoki volunteers police unit is being fashioned after a similar unit in State Park Place where the volunteers do carry guns and assist the sheriff's department in crime prevention, arrests and traffic control.

Parade units listed so far will include: Granite City Rotary Club; Amvets Post 51; Granite City Police Department Post 307 and Auxiliary; Madison Shrine Club; Granite City Park District; Tri-City Area YMCA; Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department; Parents Without Partners; Granite City Chapter 470, Job's Daughters; Bethel 48; Granite City Cooperative Extension Service; Browne Troop 621; Michael's Ambulance Service; Beta Sigma Phi Sorority; Second Baptist Church; Disabled American Veterans; Chapter 53; Logan School Browne Troop 103; Tri-City American Legion Post 113 and Auxiliary; Tri-City Chapter, American Red Cross; Granite City Hall Girls; Thoroughbred Garden Club; Madison County Tavern Owners Association; Madison Amvets Post 204; Parents Without Partners; Chapter 91; Granite City Township Senior Citizens; Venice Volunteer Fire Company 1; Women of the Moose, Chapter 247; Elks Lodge; Disabled American Veterans; Order of DeMolay; James Stuart Chapter; Webster School Scouting Unit; Amvets Auxiliary Unit 51; Madison Lions Club; Silver Bells Senior Citizens; American Steel Foundries; Granite City Optimist Club and Cahokia

ERA likened to a pillow fight

By L. S. CLEMENS

SPRINGFIELD — It was bad strategy, that pro-Equal Rights Amendment rally in Springfield. It didn't win any votes, nor, for that matter, did it lose any.

The strategy was bad, though, because it was in the wrong city.

Springfield is where the state legislators, mostly male, hang out, and it's not here, nor with them, that it (the resistance) is at.

Ask any of the women legislators if this isn't so. They aren't getting much in the way of argument from male compatriots who they buttonhole about the issue.

The battle, they will tell you, is like fighting a pillow—which is exactly what it is. Partial proof of this view is to be found in the fact that the Illinois House has approved ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment to the federal Constitution, while the Senate has not.

The Senate of Illinois, just as the Senate of the United States, is made up for the most part of men older than those in the House, and in a higher economic bracket.

Age and money are almost always allies of resistance to change.

Even here, though, there is not much intensity of feeling among the men voting "no" to ERA, or among those simply preventing it from coming to a vote.

Their interest is in keeping peace at home, and they are letting their wives, or some other woman whose views they respect (or from whom they want respect) call the shots on this one.

So it is around the home of these women that the pickets should be walking.

This last is, of course, a facetious suggestion. The great bulk of women who oppose ERA do so because they feel threatened by it, and demonstrators at the front door only would confirm them in that suspicion.

This is understandable. After all, these wives made it under the old rules. They have, then, a vested interest in keeping them unchanged.

The Equal Rights Amendment is seen as a major tool for equality by its proponents. Few foresaw that it would also be an identifiable target.

The proposal has been around for more than a generation now. Even so, it is often sold as "revolutionary" by those who are for it — and accepted in that sense by those who are opposed to it.

Actually, it is "evolutionary." Women had been doing alright for themselves in recent years and causing next to no alarm among their sisters) through the courts on questions involving equal status with men. They had even been doing alright as far as laws were concerned, the Fair Employment Practice Act, being one example even though race, not sex, was the principle selling point for this law.

The reason for these gains is obvious, that being that the status today's woman is seeking is entirely just, entirely sensible, entirely right.

Bicentennial gift by GC Realtors

In keeping with the Bicentennial, the Granite City Board of Realtors presented a check for $200 Wednesday, accepted by E. Ray Grisham, finance chairman for the Granite City Bicentennial Commission, to help finance a permanent Bicentennial memorial in Granite City.

The exact project has not been determined. Several ideas are being explored by the commission.

Funeral of former Sen. Mueller

Services were held Wednesday in Highland for M. "Mink" Mueller, 66, former Illinois state senator for the local district, and a former state representative.

Mr. Mueller was pronounced dead upon arrival at 3:13 p.m. June 27 at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Belleville, after suffering an apparent heart attack.

A lifetime resident of Highland, he operated and managed his mother's dairy farm for many years, and in 1933 helped organize a group of dairy farmers in the St. Louis Milk Market who were facing bankruptcy. He became secretary of that organization, Square Deal Milk Producers, in 1934 and the following year was named president, a position he held for 20 years.

Mr. Mueller was elected to the Illinois House in 1940, 1942 and again in 1944. He was elected to the Illinois Senate in 1946, serving a total of eight years.

He was appointed state collector by Gov. William G. Stratton in 1955 and was renominated to that post by Gov. Daniel Walker. His responsibility was to check the eligibility of colts sired and foaled in Illinois.

Mr. Mueller, a 32nd degree Mason, was a member of the Ainal Shrine Temple, Highland Mason Lodge 885, Royal Arch Masons 169, York Rites Bodies in Belleville and Alton, Knights of Pythias, Elks, Moose and Evangelical United Church of Highland.

He is survived by two sisters: Mrs. Robert (Elsie C.) Nagel, Highland; and Mrs. Norbert (Grace) Arth, Lafayette, Ind.

RADIO IS TAKEN

A Citizen's Band radio, valued at $169, was taken from a pickup truck parked in the driveway at the home of William Hughes, 320 Wilson Park Lane, he discovered at 10:35 a.m. Tuesday. A side window was forced open to enter the vehicle.

$50 BURGLARY LOOT

A burglary at the Corner Market, 2800 Marshall Ave., resulted in $50 in change being taken Monday night. A window was forced open to gain entry.

$220,813 to Venice schools

Federal funds amounting to $220,813 to conduct the Title VII program in the Venice School District in the 1976-77 school year have been approved, according to a telegram received this week by the district from U.S. Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis).

Approval of the funds, which amount to slightly more than the 1975-76 grant, was reported to the board of education at a meeting Monday night.

Mount Zion hosts contest

Mount Zion General Baptist Church held a "red-blue" contest involving the adult Sunday school members who were required to earn points by attendance, study lesson, daily prayer, reading chapters of the Bible, contacts and visitors.

At the conclusion of the five week competition the "blue" team under the leadership of Jewell Morris was named winner. Betty Warren served as captain of the losing group who hosted a banquet in the church hall.

The program opened with a poem written and read by Mrs. Helen Nance and Dennis Moniz served as master of ceremonies.

Larry Goodall and Charles Nance presented a skit entitled "Phone Call from Heaven" and concluded by leading the group in singing "America."

Gifts were given to Vernon Thomas, Mrs. Mattie Hahn, Mrs. Beulah Miskelly and Mrs. Nance for reading the most chapters of the Bible. The Rev. Donald Clark, pastor, was awarded a red and blue coat for his neutral team participation until the winner was announced. Dinner was served to 70 members of the church who took part in the event.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH REUTER JR. whose wedding was solemnized at Hope Lutheran Church. Formerly Miss Kathleen Anne Gavin, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Gavin, 2841 Fortune Drive.

Kathleen A. Gavin and Kenneth Reuter are wed

Platteau baskets of blue mums, baby's breath, daisies and greenery adorned the altar and branched candelabra holding burning tapers illuminated the aisle and sanctuary of Hope Lutheran Church for the wedding on June 12 of Miss Kathleen Anne Gavin and Kenneth Arthur Reuter Jr.

Pastor David Fielding officiated at the double ring ceremony at 6:30 p.m. Jack Jenkins presided at the organ and played "Laura's Theme," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Rigaudon." He also accompanied Paul Boyer as he sang, "Wedding Song."

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Gavin, 2841 Fortune Drive. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Reuter Sr., 2125 Cottage Ave.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Gavin, selected a long white organza and chryse gown featuring a high neckline and long full sleeves enhanced with the decorative lace design, etched with pearls.

Matching lace formed a V-style bib effect on the fitted bodice.

She wore a chapel headpiece to secure her veil of bridal illusion and carried a cascade of daisies, white carnations, blue baby's breath and white roses.

Matron of honor Mrs. John Myrlak, a sister of the bride, wore a long pastel blue gown embellished with blue flowers and created with an oval neckline edged with a wide ruffle and triple tiered skirt accented with ivory lace.

Miss Patricia Ann Mayfield and Mrs. Paul Boyer served as bridesmaids. They chose similar dresses of ivory fabric enhanced with a blue floral design.

Each attendant wore a blue wide brimmed hat and held a colonial bouquet of daisies, blue carnations and baby's breath. Flower girls Kristen Marie Medlin and Heidi Rebecca Pinton, cousins of the groom, were dressed in long blue floral frocks fashioned with a mock apron of contrasting print to match the adult attendants attire.

They carried white baskets of blue and white blossoms and wore blue ribbons in their hair.

The groom chose Paul Allen Boyer as his best man, John Gagich and Gregory Thebeau served as groomsmen and Michael T. Gavin, a brother of the bride and John C. Schwab served the guests.

A reception was held at the VFW Hall after the ceremony and the rehearsal dinner was hosted at the Old Homestead in St. Louis. Miss Mary Epperson attended the guest book.

Mrs. Gavin was attired in a V-neckline and applied floral design at the waistline and flowing cape over the shoulders.

The groom's mother selected a formal gown of pink polyester fashioned with long sleeves and a V-neckline. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations and baby's breath.

A graduate of South High School and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the bride, taught the fourth grade at Marshall School last term.

The groom also graduated from South High School and SIUE. He is employed as a chemist for Tret-O-Lite in Webster Groves.

They are residing in Granite City and took a wedding trip to Tanglewood Resort in Missouri.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Pinton of St. Louis, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Medlin, Murphysboro, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. William Weber of Mitchell, S.D., Mrs. Frances Howard of Washington, Ind. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Soehnlin of Overland Park, Kan.

Mrs. Rardin hosts party

Mrs. Mary Rardin, 1339 Second St., Madison, entertained guests in her home Monday evening honoring her grandson Glen L. Tonsor on his 51st birthday.

Those attending the party included the honoree's wife, Mrs. Tonsor and son Glen Tonsor III and Mrs. Cindy Barnett and son Steven of Granite City, Mrs. Claudia Tonsor of Edwardsville, Mrs. Sylvia Woodard of Steelville, Mo.

Among the guests present there were five generations of the family represented. The guest of honor also received a telephone call from his stepfather Claude Woodard of Steelville who was unable to attend.

News notes

A report on whether anti-sewer petition signatures were sufficient to block sanitary sewers in unincorporated areas is expected late this week after County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer returns from a meeting out-of-town.

It will be parade day in the Quad-Cities, rain or shine. No contingency plans will be made for altering the date, since many of the participants are available for that day only.

The Senate completed action Monday on workmen's compensation and sent the legislation to Gov. Daniel Walker. It slightly eases liberalized benefits voted a year ago but business firms assail the changes as only minor; they contend the law is helping create a climate that could run businesses out of the state.

Legislators met for 15 hours yesterday but resumed today despite the passage of their June 30 midnight deadline for adjournment. Unresolved issues include collective bargaining for mental health employees and Division of Water Resources funding.

The U.S. Supreme Court yesterday overruled most types of "gag orders" on news coverage of criminal cases in open court sessions.

Local Democratic delegates who had run uncommitted and won in the March primary were authorized by 23rd Congressional District committee last night to back former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter for the Presidential nomination at New York this month.

Legislators completed action Wednesday on a bill extending minimum pay to additional employees but excluding firms with fewer than four workers and farmers with less than 500 manhours of labor a year.

CYCLE-CAR ACCIDENT
Ruben Ybera, 20, of 1733 Poplar St., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 12:20 a.m. today for injuries suffered in a motorcycle-car accident in the 2500 block of Missouri Avenue.

He suffered cuts to his left knee, right ankle and left big toe and multiple abrasions. A series of x-rays was taken.

ARREST FOR BATTERY
James A. Coyle, 33, of 2231 Lee Ave., was arrested at his home at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday and was charged with aggravated battery. He allegedly was striking a woman when officers arrived. A complaint was signed by Andrea King.

ADMITTED AFTER CRASH
James Reeves, 26, of 2436 Grand Ave., was admitted for observation to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2:45 p.m. Monday with injuries received in an auto accident near Alton. He had abrasions to the left arm and right lower leg.

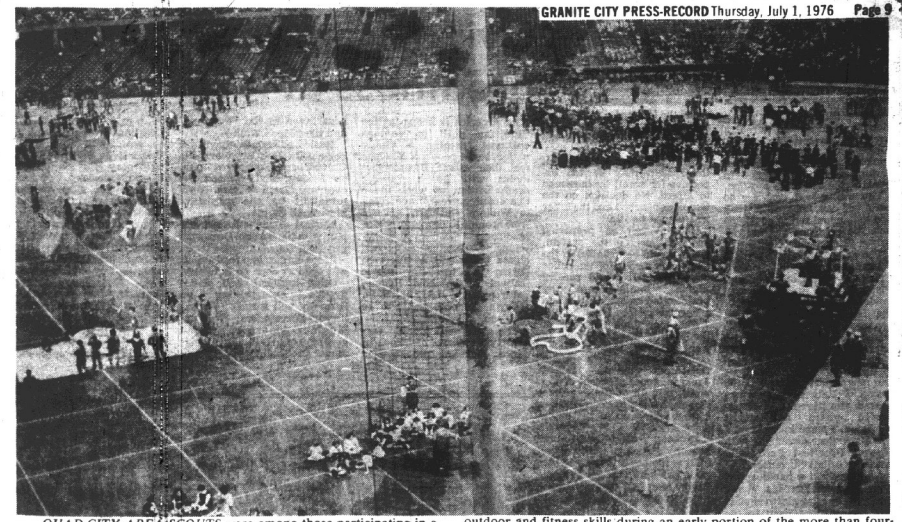

THEFT FROM TRUCK
Ted Plesner of New York reported at 2:05 a.m. Wednesday that while his truck was parked in a lot at 108 State St., Madison, thieves pried open a vent window and took an electric drill and small calculator with a combined value of $60.

3 BICYCLES STOLEN
Three bicycles, totaling $180 in value, were taken from a carport at the rear of the home of Ethel Paul, 2945 Fehling Road, she reported at 11:05 p.m. Monday. Taken were a 10-speed bicycle, a 26-inch bike for girls and a 24-inch bike for boys.

Possible rezoning creates concern in Kennedy Drive area

Several residents of the 1600 and 1700 blocks of Kennedy Drive in Madison appeared for a scheduled meeting Tuesday evening of the city zoning board to protest proposed rezoning of the area and to voice complaints about the height of weeds on several vacant lots.

"Several people were concerned over working in a legal notice mentioning rezoning for commercial or industrial use. There is no way the zoning board will approve any industrial use of that land," William Gushleff, chairman of the zoning board said.

There are 14 lots involved and they are owned by Mayor Mike Sasyk. He wants to sell the land, without profit, to the Madison Amvets, who want to put up a building.

"We have no control over the sale of the land and it is my understanding that a new petition will be presented by the Amvets," Gushleff said.

There was no quorum of the zoning board present, so no formal hearing was held. Gushleff said, "There was a good discussion, even though no meeting was held and a lot of the fears and misconceptions of people living on Kennedy Drive were cleared up. I feel."

Third Ward Alderman Ronald Graywacz brought the complaints about weeds to the attention of the City Council which met later in the evening.

Sasyk acquired Kennedy Drive property to help assure continued development in Madison and has specified that all such sites be rezoned at the same price for which they were acquired. In addition to the intended Amvets structure, home sites are indicated.

Aldermen have indicated that some nearby residents do not favor construction of veterans' club facilities on Kennedy.

HYPERTENSION State residents alerted to risk

By JOAN MURARO

SPRINGFIELD — An estimated 15 per cent of the overall U.S. population is walking around with hypertension — high blood pressure.

Though they are risking kidney disease, paralyzing strokes, heart attacks and death, only half those 15 per cent even know they have it. And only half of that half are receiving adequate medical care.

To alert more Illinois residents to the dangers and the availability of help, the state Public Health Department is coordinating a statewide drive to find patients and either get them back to the doctor if they've been there or get them there in the first place.

The big problem with hypertension, according to Edith Heide, chronic disease program coordinator for the department, is that it seldom has symptoms in the early stages. Instead, it has a plethora of misconceptions. Typical is its name — hypertension sounds like the victim must be extremely tense to have it. So if life is proceeding normally and you feel fine, you can't have it. Right?

Wrong. Who may have it varies with population segments, but just about anybody can, including large numbers of teenagers. Black males are more subject to severe hypertension than any other group. Miss Heide says 30 per cent of them may be victims. Black women come next as a group, then white males.

Persons with family histories of high blood pressure or diabetes are higher risks, as are persons who smoke, those with serious weight problems and young females taking oral contraceptives.

For persons under 40, a reading of 140-90 is considered borderline. For older persons, 160-95 is borderline. In either of these cases, the department recommends two or three readings before referral to a doctor, since there are temporary conditions which may cause an elevated reading.

Many groups are stressing the need to know about one's own blood pressure, conducting testing programs and then handing the person a card suggesting they see a doctor for further action. But there is no follow-up in many such cases. Many people who don't realize the hazard ignore the advice.

For this reason, says Miss Heide, the department is urging that health groups conduct the programs and professionals give the tests so they can explain the situation and the need to follow through.

The state, among its coordinating activities, is also beginning a data bank where information, with the patients' consents, will be stored.

Ambulance space rental is approved

The Granite City Council Monday night agreed to rent a parking meter to the Granite Ambulance Service, 1417 Twenty-first St., for permanent parking of an ambulance in front of the company's office.

The meter will rent for 40 cents per day, six days a week and the annual rental of $24.80 must be paid one year in advance, the council decided.

The council received a reply from U.S. Congressman Melvin Price (D-23rd Congressional District) to an inquiry the city made regarding the future of the federal revenue sharing program.

In the reply, Price said he appreciates receiving the city's views supporting continuation of the program and noted, "I can now report to you that the House of Representatives has passed the three and three-fourth years entitlement provision. Please be assured I will share your comments with Senator (Charles) Percy and Senator (Adlai) Stevenson."

A letter from a handicapped man who makes his living receiving burglar alarm signals and transmitting them to the proper authorities was read, in which the man said a new burglar alarm system proposed by the city would destroy his business.

The council is considering purchasing a central system which would receive alarm signals directly at the police department and would make a printed record of each signal and when it was answered by the police.

Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward told the council if the new system would leave a handicapped businessman who has been in the business 22 years without a way to make a living, Coleman would vote against purchasing the new equipment.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward said the police would be able to respond more quickly to alarms with the new system and said, "You have to look at better service for all the people of Granite City."

Chief of Police Ronald Veizer said he has studied various alarm systems for more than six months and has concluded the system the city now is studying is the best studied this far.

He noted that the man who wrote the letter also sells alarm systems and is willing to bid on supplying the system to the city.

Other aldermen said they felt the system may be too expensive for small businesses to afford. No decision on the issue was reached and the letter was referred to the committee.

Chief Veizer is preparing specifications on the system, which would be installed in the dispatcher's room of the police department. It would receive alarm signals from any business or residence which had a burglar system installed.

Alderman Glen Sprankle of the Fourth Ward objected to what he felt was an extensive overtime at the city's sewage treatment plant. Robert Jackson, superintendent of the plant, said all of the overtime was necessary to keep sewage from backing up in the city's sewerage.

Jackson said lightning recently struck a utility pole, halting the power supply to the main gates into the Mississippi River. Men had to work overtime to avoid a backup, he related.

The superintendent said overtime is not used except in emergency situations, and pledged steps to avoid the kind of problems experienced in the power failure.

"We are working on an automatic switchboard which would change our power from Illinois Power Co. to Union Electric should there be another blackout," he told the council.

The aldermen voted to add $24,994 to the bill list to pay the balance due on a new street sweeper. Final payment had been withheld because the unit was said to be not working properly.

All necessary repairs have been made, it was noted. The sweeper was purchased with federal revenue sharing funds.

Heavy construction equipment which has been crossing Bremen Avenue was cited as the cause of large holes in the street and the council was told the construction company responsible has agreed to repair the street at no cost to the city.

Councilmen were informed that the city is being sued for damage to property near a sewer break and repair work in the 4100 block of Stearns Avenue. The issue was referred to the city attorney.

Living dramatization of U.S. greatness at festival in Madison

As America is known as the "melting pot" of various cultures forming a single nation, so the people of Madison feel their ethnic Bicentennial event will be a "living dramatization of what made this country great," according to William Gushleff, general Bicentennial chairman for Madison.

Singing, dancing, rides and ethnic foods will be featured during the three-day ethnic festival to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday on the St. Mary's School grounds in Madison.

The event will provide carnival-type rides for children and adults, including two Madison area favorites the "Tempest" and the "Moon Walk." Music and entertainment will begin with Bob Boyd and the Checkerboard Squares at 7 p.m. on Friday, and dancing for everyone from 9 p.m. until midnight by the music of Steve's All Stars.

Musical events will start at 5 p.m. with the Serbian Orchestra and Folk Dance group. Rides, games and food stands will open at noon on Saturday. Other musical and dance groups entertaining on Saturday will include: 6 p.m. Slavic Serenaders; 7 p.m. Mexican-American dance group; 8 p.m. Happy Strings Junior Croatian Tamburitza;

9 p.m. Veseli Padashe Croatian Orchestra; and from 10 p.m. until midnight, the David Hyla Polish Polka band will play for dancing and listening pleasure.

The games, rides and booths will open again at noon on Sunday.

Music and dancing schedules Sunday, July 4, are: 2 p.m., Ukrainian Folk dancers; 3 p.m., St. Stanislaus Polish Dancers; 4 p.m., Joe Rey and Blue Grass; 6 p.m., Russian Balalaika Orchestra and Dancers; and from 8 p.m. until midnight, dancing for all to the music of the Terry Dukko Quintet.

Among the food delights to be served are sarma and kielbasa prepared by the Slavic Serenaders, and Russian and Slavic food served by members of the Nativity of the Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Church.

Members of the Polish Hall will serve Polish national dishes.

The Madison fire department will serve shishkebabs and cold beer, and Amvets Post 204 will serve pork steaks. Mexican food will be served by the Khoury League.

The Mount Nebo Baptist Church will have a food booth and the Knights of Columbus will serve hot fish.

There will be snow cones served by the Happy Strings group and corn dogs and buttered corn prepared jointly by the Madison Ladies City Organization and the Madison Ladies Democratic Organization.

Lemonade will be served by the Catholic Youth and a Pepsi-Cola booth will be operated by Explorer Post 104.

In addition to carnival rides and a variety of game booths, there will be a dunking stool sponsored by the Khoury League, a quilting stand by the Madison Senior Citizens, an exhibit of Russian artifacts, arts and crafts stand by the Junior Tamburitza, a booth by St. Mary's Boosters, and games by the St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Profits from the three-day event will go mainly to the local

BUSY SUMMER AT SIUC
Summer session enrollment at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale has been tallied at 10,116 students, a slight drop from last summer's four-year high water mark. SIUC halted summer term admissions of new freshmen on May 28. The figure will climb higher in coming weeks when registrations at the Springfield medical campus and in workshops and other courses scheduled later in the summer are computed in the totals.

organizations sponsoring the booths. Each organization is making a donation to the City of Madison to construct a permanent memorial to mark the nation's 200th year.

Mexican float will have legend theme

The legend of "The Shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe" will be the theme of the float the Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City will enter in the Quad-City Bicentennial parade Saturday.

Members of the float committee explained that the story of the shrine is one Mexican people cherish. In the mountains of Mexico City on Dec. 9, 1531, at 5 a.m. a small, young and poor peasant boy named Juan Diego heard music coming from the mountains and rose to search for the music, according to the legend.

He found Our Lady of Guadalupe, who spoke to him and told him to go to the local bishop and to tell him he had seen her and that she wished a church to be built for her on the location where she appeared. Juan did as he was told, but the Bishop did not believe him, according to legend. On Dec. 12, 1531, Our Lady of Guadalupe again appeared before the boy and again told him to ask the bishop to order a church constructed for her at that location, but this time to pick roses and lay them before the feet of the bishop.

The boy complied with her request and as he laid the roses on the floor, Our Lady of Guadalupe appeared before the bishop. The bishop then ordered the church constructed.

Since then, Our Lady of Guadalupe has been known as "the mother of all Mexicans" and "the queen of Americans." About six million tourists visit her church every year and each Dec. 12, about one million people converge at the church to attempt to get a glimpse of Our Lady of Guadalupe.

There are large celebrations throughout Mexico on that day, with music and dancing, plus appearances by motion picture stars paying tribute to Our Lady of Guadalupe. Members of the float committee, who designed and are preparing the float, are Lisa Garcia and Shirley Valencia, co-chairmen, and Wesley Grim, Delia Antoff, Kathy Lancaster and George Harwell.

5 burglaries in 3 blocks

Five auto burglaries believed to have occurred Monday between the hours of 1 and 5 a.m. in a three-block area, were discovered Monday. All of the vehicles were entered by forcing a side window.

Reporting their vehicles had been entered, but nothing taken were Don Skaggs, 2127 rear Lee Ave.; Roy Warren, 2123 Lee Ave.; Terry Hall, 2115 Monroe Ave.; and Walter Waligorski, 2114 Washington Ave.

Several items found near the Waligorski auto, including sunglasses, a small toolbox and a tape recording, were traced to Gary Westbrook of California who was visiting at 2128 Washington Ave. Ownership papers for a van truck belonging to Westbrook were also found.

Police informed Westbrook of the discovery, and upon checking his van, he found a toolbox containing assorted tools and a beach bag containing a pocket calculator and children's games had been stolen.

Mrs. Gloria Vinton receives 17 awards

Mrs. Gloria L. Vinton, 3248 Wayne Ave., received 17 awards at the Greater St. Louis Hemerocallis Show held during the weekend at the Northwest Plaza Shopping Center, St. Louis.

She won first place honors for three miniature species named Ticktock, Toyland and Red Mitten and for five other entries, Great Heart, Rose Motif, Milled Gold, Jubilee Pink and Bonny Hours and for seedling B-67.

Mrs. Vinton also received eight second place awards. All the award winning flowers may be seen in the gardens of her home, Mrs. Vinton added.

CAR TELEPHONE TAKEN
A radio-telephone was taken from an auto belonging to Virginia Peters, 3001 Peeling Road, while the vehicle was parked in the driveway was discovered at 1:10 p.m. Tuesday.

Bike-a-thon ride adds $2,900 to cancer fund

Joseph Lucido, Granite City crusade chairman for the American Cancer Society, announced today that a "bike-a-thon" held this week brought in pledges totaling nearly $2,900. "It was a typical hot June Sunday," Lucido remarked. "But this did not prevent 35 from riding bicycles in 90-degree heat for this worthwhile event."

Two 10-speed bicycles will be awarded to the male and female riders who collect the most money from their pledge sponsors, Lucido said. The bicycles were donated by the Granite City Steel Employees Federal Credit Union and the Western Auto Store, 2001 Grand Ave.

Presentation of the bicycles will be made about July 26 when all pledges have been totaled, the crusade chairman announced. Two avid bike riders, James Himmelright and Charles Schaefer, both rode a total of 56 miles. Another, Vicki Nighobossian, recorded pledges amounting to more than $600. Refreshments were furnished the participants by Ron Luebber of The Nestle Company. Mrs. Lily Chaboudie recruited volunteers working at the checkpoints and Mrs. Harriet Horn enlisted persons registering the entrants. At the Niedringhaus School starting point, each rider was given a kit containing a map of the route, a checkpoint card, a bicycle "Rules of the Road" book and a cloth patch. At the conclusion, each received a fiberglass bike pole with flag. Rick Rose, Granite City marathon runner and world record holder who has helped raise funds for the cancer crusade in earlier programs, rode a total of 16 miles. "This is a lot of fun, but I'd rather run," he commented. Earl French, bike-a-thon chairman, said the event "once again proved a successful

Adjusted rates show slight rise from '75

Tax bills this year for Granite City taxpayers will be 2.1 cents per $100 assessed valuation lower for city and township purposes than the first rates certified this year due to a legal opinion from Don Smith, assistant Madison County state's attorney. He ruled that the county clerk's office may not add a percentage to cover loss in the collection of taxes. Additional declines are projected in county and school rates. The revised rates were outlined to the Granite City

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thursday, July 1, 1976 Page 11

County Monday night.

Formerly, the clerk's office added two per cent on all rates which were not already at their legal maximum to help compensate for taxes which cannot be collected. In most years, tax collections average 95 to 98 per cent but never reach 100 per cent it was explained.

An opinion from the Illinois attorney general seemed to support the additional two per cent. Miss Evelyn Bowles, county clerk, said, adding that she is obligated to follow the advice of the county state's attorney's office.

Her office recomputed the rates for every taxing body in Madison County and recertified each rate this week.

The result of Smith's legal opinion was a drop of 1.9 cents per $100 assessed valuation in the Granite City corporate tax rate and a drop of two-tenths of one cent per $100 assessed valuation in the Granite City Township tax rate, compared to those announced in mid-June. The city and township share the same boundaries. The combined drop means Granite City residents will pay a 2.1-cent lower rate per $100 assessed valuation for city and township services than under the formerly announced rates. The city rate dropped from $1.388 per $100 assessed valuation to $1.361 by the rate adjustments. It still is slightly higher than the $1.358 tax rate of last year.

The Granite City township rate declined from 21 cents per $100 assessed valuation to 20.8 cents (1975 rate for 1976 collection), which is up from 19.7 cents last year (1974 tax rate for 1975 collection).

Pride and progress Rotary goals for Venice, Madison

The emphasis at the Madison-Venice Rotary Club officers' installation last night at Charlie's Restaurant was on fun, fellowship, pride and service to the Madison-Venice area.

Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr. served as installing officer. A past president of the club, he is a past District 646 Rotary governor. Officers installed were: W. F. "Mick" Strange, president; Henry Gray, first vice-president; Albert Hudzik, second vice-president; Thomas Fields, secretary; John Lee, treasurer; and Willie Griggs, sergeant-at-arms.

The incoming president remarked that during the coming year the Rotarians will do everything they can to make the Venice-Madison area a better place to live, do business in and raise a family.

Those of us who live or work in Madison and Venice have a lot to be proud of and I hope every Rotarian will join me in emphasizing the positive aspects of our area," he commented.

Strange was presented with a "Crown and scepter" as a tape played "Pompous Circumstances" by Walter Carlos. Retiring President Ray Edwards was presented with a plaque and a past president pin by Rotarian Wayne Scannell. A center piece was presented to Mrs. Margaret Edwards, wife of the retiring president, by Mrs. Jeanette Scannell.

Rotarian Jack Friedman presented a plaque of appreciation to the club's secretary, Fred Schmidt.

Wives and women guests of the Rotarians were presented with carnations.

The 72 persons attending were entertained by Fred "Skinny" Stroud and Ed Jell, vaudeville comedians who featured jokes, magic, ventriloquism and singing. Rotarian Larry Palke served as master-of-ceremonies.

Tickets remain for GC park Mundy Opera trips

Tickets still remain for each show on the Granite City Park District's 1976 summer school tour to the St. Louis Municipal Opera in Forest Park.

The first in a weekly series of trips is scheduled Tuesday, July 6, to "Fiddler on the Roof."

Tickets cost $7 each and transportation by chartered bus costs an additional $2.25. Reservations may be made and paid for at the Wilson Park office where the tickets are available now.

Buses will leave the circle drive at the Wilson Park ice rink pavilion at 7 p.m. each Tuesday during the summer season.

The remaining shows and dates are:

"Mame," July 13; "On the Town," July 20; "Show Boat," July 27; "The King and I," Aug. 3.

"Oliver," Aug. 10; "The Baker's Wife," Aug. 17; "Hurok's Russian Festival of Music and Dance," Aug. 24; and Aug. 31, show yet to be announced.

Bells to ring for nation's 200th birthday

Churches, schools, cities, universities and individuals are to toll all bells at 1 p.m. Sunday, July 4, to herald the nation's entrance into its third century.

The 1 p.m. bell ringing in Illinois will be simultaneous to the ringing of bells across the country. It will be 2 p.m. in Philadelphia, exactly 200 years from the precise moment that the Liberty Bell proclaimed the independence of the new nation.

The bell-ringing will go on for two minutes in commemoration of the nation's first two centuries.

Stations are being asked to broadcast the sound of bells during the period.

The nationwide effort is encouraged and supported by a U. S. Senate Concurrent Resolution.

The Liberty Bell will be rung—amplified electronically because of the crack—in a symbolic national ceremony conducted by the Sons of the American Revolution at Independence National Park at 2 p.m. Philadelphia time.

'Upstairs' TV series returns

Upstairs-Downstairs, the Masterpiece Theatre series about a British family and their servants during World War I, returns this summer at 6 p.m. Sundays on Channel 9, beginning July 4.

Due to an overwhelming response from hearing-impaired viewers concerning the captioned telecast of Masterpiece Theatre's Notorious Woman, Upstairs-Downstairs will also be captioned this season.

The series opens with the Bellamy household changed by the war. James Bellamy is off to the front. His wife, Hazel, is pressed into extending hospitality to a family of French-speaking refugees. Downstairs in the servants' quarters, Hudson, the butler, is unable to join the forces. Instead, he loudly expresses his anti-German hostilities. Daisy and Edward are married hours before Edward leaves to fight in France.

share the spotlight tonight, specialize in Australian whipcracking and fancy rope spinning.

As fast with the lariat as they are steady with the whip, Ken and Donna Clayton feature a "human whipping post" and feats of spinning two and three ropes at once.

The couple has appeared at many rodeos, fairs, conventions, night clubs and sport shows and has performed on the Regis Philbin television show. Ken Clayton also was featured on the late Ed Sullivan's network show.

Intricate head and hand balancing will be presented by "The Kents," who will serve as masters-of-ceremonies for the variety show.

Saturday evening's fireworks exhibition will include sparkling set pieces such as the Liberty Bell, Niagara Falls, American flag, "elephant washing her baby," saucers "free of paradise" and a "good night" salute.

During the display, 96 nine-inch shells in bursts, serpents, comets and dual color arrays will be fired. Twelve announcement bombs will summon spectators to the display area and 60 nine-inch shells will be included in the finale.

For Sunday night's July Fourth spectacular, the Granite City Park District has purchased $2,500 worth of assorted displays. Brown reported, noting that the exhibition probably will be the most extravagant and colorful show in local Independence Day festival history. Twelve "atomic" bomb salutes, fired at intervals, will alert spectators to the show's opening sequences at 9 p.m. Sunday.

Children and adults will be entertained with brilliant, bursting star clusters, two-stage and two-color shells, silver rings and twinkling, cascading stars.

Rainbows and "battle in the clouds" shells will compete for attention with whistle, comet and Oriental shells and "thunder" bombs. A 50-foot Niagara Falls and a 500-foot American flag are among the ground level displays. Also in the set exhibits will be a Minute Man; cascade of colors; Liberty Bell; Statue of Liberty; tree of paradise; small flying saucers; rainbow fan; flitter set; and "good night" farewell salute. The assortment of individual fireworks to be used in Sunday's show includes 62 nine-inch shells plus additional 120 nine-inch shells fired in the finale; 34 each of the 15-and-12 inch variety; and 14 shells in the 18-inch category.

Sunday also is the day when all residents of the Granite City Park District are invited to bring a picnic basket to Wilson Park and join their friends, neighbors and relatives in an "all-day community picnic to celebrate the nation's 200th birthday." Brown said.

Local men's and women's service clubs and athletic and youth groups operating stands at this year's Fourth of July festival will include:

Armenian Apostolic Church, which is serving Armenian food; Joy Singers, pastries, coffee and iced tea; St. Elizabeth Hospital Explorers Post Nine, roast beef andwiches, coffee and iced tea; Granite City North High School Boosters, hot dogs and cone islands. Parents Without Partners, corn dogs; Theta Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, ice cream; Boy Scout Troop 19, pizza, Eagles Auxiliary, sloppy Joes and iced tea; Boy Scout Troop Seven, 7-Up products. Granite City North and South Band, Parents, popcorn and orange drinks; Moose Lodge 222, lemonade shakes; Granite City Amateur Hockey Association, Pepsi-Cola products; Cub Pack 19, snow cones.

Mexican Honorary Commission, Mexican food, barbecued ham sandwiches; and Granite City South High Warriors' Booster Club, fish, shrimp and onion rings.

Miss Gloria Spence will sketch portraits for festivalgoers and the Granite City Township Democratic Organization will sponsor a dunking game. Informational and educational material will be offered at a booth conducted by the Granite City Public Library.

Granite City South Boosters also will operate the ticket booths.

Crashes on 203 injure 3 persons

Two related accidents south of the McCambridge Avenue viaduct on Route 203 Tuesday night hospitalized three persons, including a pedestrian.

At 11:10 p.m., a southbound auto driven by Joseph E. Flanagan Jr., 29, of Cahokia struck curbing, swerved off the road and traveled 76 feet before coming to a halt. The front end of the auto was damaged.

Madison Policeman Cecil E. Bell parked his squad car at the scene with red lights flashing while assisting state police. Then at 11:20 p.m. Tuesday a southbound car operated by David R. Milton Sr., 38, of 2017 Bryan Ave., allegedly collided with a moving auto driven by Charles R. Diehl, 43, of St. Louis, also southbound on Route 203.

The Milton auto then apparently collided with the rear of the Madison police car, pushing it forward into an unidentified auto parked at the scene and pinning William J. Levy, 28, of 8 Eldorado Drive, a pedestrian, between the two vehicles. There was minor damage to the police car.

Milton was given a citation for failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital and admitted were: Flanagan, with a cut to the left side of the head, a puncture wound to his right leg and a cut to the left hand; he was admitted for observation. Milton, held for observation with a possible head injury. And Levy, fractured left leg.

CONDITION IMPROVED
James Strum, 2713 Harding Blvd., was in satisfactory condition today in Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis. Strum was taken to the St. Louis hospital June 22 in critical condition after having been severely beaten and found in the 2500 block of West 22nd Street.

Stabbing

according to witnesses. Mrs. Lynn ran to her car and drove home. The other two women got into a red auto which left the scene. A young man was believed driving the car.

When Mrs. Lynn arrived home, the seriousness of her injury was realized and an ambulance was called.

She was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where doctors requested that the knife blade be brought to determine the depth of the wound.

Madison County officers who had been assisting at the park turned the knife over to a Madison police officer who took it to the hospital.

After emergency room treatment, Mrs. Lynn was taken to the intensive care unit. Madison police arrested the suspect at 5:45 p.m. Wednesday in the 1500 block of Third St., Madison, and took her to the Granite City jail, where she was held overnight and was to be questioned today. No charges have been filed.

Venice honors school children

Mrs. Gromer funeral today

Mrs. Edith Gromer, 59, Rural Route One, Troy, died at 4:30 p.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where she had been a patient for five days.

Survivors include her husband, William C. Gromer; sons, John H. Gromer, Milton, Fla., and William C. Mallory, Troy; and one brother and two sisters. Funeral services will be at 1:30 p.m. today at a Collinsville funeral home, with burial in Sunset Hill Cemetery.

REORGANIZING STORES

In a reorganizing move, P.N. Hirsch & Co. has dissolved the corporations of all 63 of its Illinois stores and has created a new corporation, P.N. Hirsch of Illinois, Inc. A company spokesman said the merging of all the Illinois stores under one firm is part of a complete reorganization of the corporations of all 400 P.N. Hirsch stores in the nation. The reorganization does not affect store operations or personnel, he said.

STOP CAR, ARREST 2

Police stopped the auto of Danny R. Selph, 19, of 2500 Nameoki Road, Trailer 7, at Nameoki Road and Wilson Avenue at 10:10 p.m. Wednesday and found a 16-year-old boy in the car who allegedly had a bag of marijuana in his trousers. The juvenile was charged with possession of marijuana and Selph was charged with not having authority for the car. Two other passengers in the car were released.

BEAUTY SHOP LOOTED

Several items were taken from the New Breed Beauty Shop, 2401 Jerdon Ave., after entry was gained by breaking a window Monday night. Desk drawers and a closet were ransacked. It was reported by the owner, Jim Broshaw. Missing are a stereo and speakers, tapes, a camera, a power saw, skill saw, tools, assorted jewelry, a fire extinguisher and women's wigs.

ARREST ON CREDIT CARD

Marvin Burton, 24, of St. Louis, was charged with theft at 12:30 p.m. Monday in Granite City for allegedly attempting to use a credit card in Jennings, Mo. The card had been reported missing from the wallet of Mary K. Heagy last week at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

FIRE IN AUTO WIRING

A short-circuit in electrical wiring of an auto belonging to Lionel Jogo of Florissant, Mo., resulted in $200 damage to the 1972 vehicle at 1 p.m. Monday at the Coolidge Junior High School parking lot on Nameoki Road. Firemen extinguished the blaze in 10 minutes.

4-H Achievement night held

Displays of project work, a dress review and talks and demonstrations were featured at the annual local achievement night of the 58ers 4-H Club held at St. John United Church of Christ.

The pledge of allegiance was led by Dina Lance and the 4-H pledge by Mary Ruth followed by roll call answered with the members favorite color. Birthday greetings were offered to Kelly Ault.

Janet Scannell reported on a speech contest in which she and Sue Basarich had participated. Janet received an A-rating and Sue a B-rating, it was noted. Janet then gave her original talk on "The Day I Worked in My Dad's Store."

A demonstration on embroidery was given by Beth Goeller followed by a modeling presentation with Patty Basarich displaying an apron she made and Lisa Griffey and Karen Spencer modeling sleeveless jumpers.

Exhibiting for "You Learn To Bake" were Penny Strum, cornbread; Kelly Ault, chocolate cake; Lisa Griffey, oatmeal cookies; and Tracey Johnson, chocolate cake. "Let's Start Cooking" exhibits were made by Janice Owens and Gloria Milians both showing raw vegetables. Donna Jones displayed a loaf of white yeast bread in her "Yeast Bread" project; rolled biscuits were shown by Janet Scannell, Shannon Bushue, Patty Basarich and Karen Spencer in the "Meals For Today" project. Cheese crackers in the "Teen Time Food Fare" project by Dina Long and Sue Basarich; Cynthia Goeller exhibited frozen corn in her Preservation-Freezing project.

In the "Childcare" project Sue Basarich displayed a felt alphabet book she made and in the "Arts and Crafts" projects Kelly Ault showed a water color; Loretta Paschadag showed a sandcrafting wall decoration in the Mosaic; Karen Spencer displayed an original quilting wall hanging; Cynthia Goeller made a photography display.

Dina Lance, showing an embroidered pillow and Beth Goeller, showing an embroidered baby bib, completing their stitchery projects; in crocheting Lisa Scannell and Mary Ruth displayed potholders; Donna Jones, a shoulder bag and Janet Scannell matching scarf and cap.

Completing the display were ceramic projects, a hadn lettered decorative plate by Janet Scannell and boy and girl wall plaques by Lisa Scannell.

Mrs. Joanna Spencer, club advisor, announced Gloria Milians, Dina Long, Tracey Johnson and Karen Spencer will attend 4-H camp in Jacksonville, Ill. next week. All foods, childcare and crocheting project members are to meet at 10:15 a.m. at St. John's Church on July 8 with their projects to Arrest at truck

A Madison youth was charged with vehicle burglary following his arrest Monday near the home of G. F. Shemwell, 2127 Lee Ave. A pickup truck belonging to Shemwell had been broken into.

Upon the youth's apprehension nearby, four eight-track tapes and a flashlight were found on the ground, and two cameras allegedly were tied to his belt. On his person were two screwdrivers, a small hammer, wirecutters, and a black pocketknife, it was alleged.

A spokesman noted that the youth became 17 on Tuesday, but since the offense occurred prior to that time he is being treated as a juvenile and has been taken to the Madison County Detention Home.

Spencer added.

She reported clothing projects will be shown on July 9; beginning foods demonstration contest is set for July 12; advanced foods on July 16. All other 4-H projects will be shown at the Madison County Fair, Highland, July 26 and 27th.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for Aug. 5 and all records must be completed by that date Mrs. Spencer said. After the session cupcakes and lemonade and pineapple punch was served.

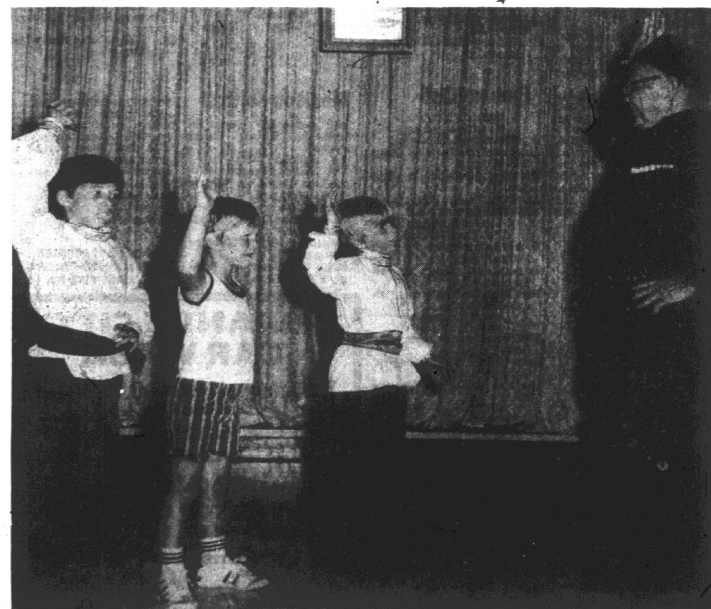

JOINED IN SONG, the Community Chorus sang during a special Bicentennial worship service Sunday at the Wilson Park ice rink, attended by 850 people of many faiths. The chorus is comprised of the members of several church choirs. They are shown standing while singing "God of Our Fathers." The chorus was directed by the Rev. John Nading of Third Baptist Church. (Press-Record Photo)

COMMUNITY WORSHIP SERVICE Sunday at the Wilson Park ice rink, marking the official beginning of this week's Bicentennial activities. About 850 worshippers of many faiths were brought together in the service, which was organized by the Quad-City Ministerial Association. At the lectern is Father James L. Newman of Sacred Heart Catholic Church and behind

instruction of James Chernoff. The Russian Balalaika Orchestra and Dancers will perform Sunday at 6 p.m. The festivities will begin Friday afternoon with rides, games, dancing and ethnic foods.

Granite City drivers among racing title contenders

With the stock car racing program at Tri-City Speedway at mid-season, Missouri's Mike Wallace faces a long, uphill grind toward possibly regaining his sportsman division point lead, last weekend when his race car was disqualified. Track officials ruled a carburetor on the vehicle in violation of Gateway Auto Racing Association rules.

The defending track champion's forfeit of all points earned thus far this season places him at the bottom of the point standings and moves the other drivers forward one position to contend for the 1976 track championship.

Heading the revised point standings going into this Saturday's 7:30 p.m. racing program is St. Louisian Kris Krohn with 1,770 points. He is followed in order by four Granite City drivers: Dean Aerne, 1,310; Chuck Milam, 1,065; Jack Yates, 990; and Les Gibson, 970.

Rounding out the top 10 are St. Louisian Tim Allen with 940 points, Granite City's Larry Yates, 880; Bill Ried of St. Charles, Mo., 880; Granite City's Steve Krause, 625; and St. Louisian Greg Dillender with 605.

Late model stock car driver Russ Wallace of Arnold, Mo., heads that division's standings with 2,375 points, earned mainly on six straight feature race wins.

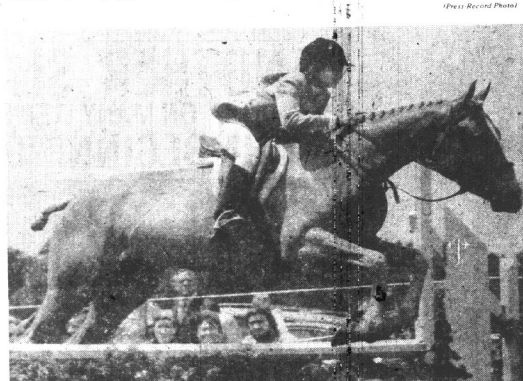

A battle for second place has developed between two East Alton drivers, C.C. Corbin and Bill Myers. Corbin, winner of last weekend's mid-season championship race, has 1,875 points and Myers 1,815.

Remaining positions in the top 10 are: Mike Hammer of St. Charles, Mo., 1,600; Kevin Gundaker of St. Ann, Mo., 1,175; Norm Cox of Berkeley, Mo., 1,165; Ralph Knox of St. Charles, 1,135; Bill Laycock of Granite City, 1,070; Jerry Sifford of Imperial, Mo., 895; and Len Gettemier of St. Charles with 675 points.

Both classes will compete in qualifying time-trials Saturday prior to preliminary heat races.

DEFENDING STOCK CAR CHAMPION, Missouri's Mike Wallace (left), shown being presented an award by Mike Mooney of the Falkner Brewing Corp. after Wallace won the 50-lap mid-season championship race for sportsman cars. He will start his campaign Saturday toward possibly regaining his lead in point standings at Tri-City Speedway. Wallace won last Saturday's race here and then forfeited his winnings—and all points earned thus far this season—to Granite City's Jack Yates when a carburetor on the engine of Wallace's race car was found not to conform with rules. In the center is Denise Yost, trophy girl for the evening.

BOBBIE SCHNELLMANN shown riding her horse "Happy Time" in the Bridle Spur Hunt, where she received a first and second award in the pony hunter and children hunter divisions, respectively. She is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Schnellmann, 2662 State St. and was a student at St. Margaret Mary School.

ALLEN JOINS HARRIS
Junior college cross-country All-American runner DeWayne Allen has signed a letter of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Allen, from Anderson, Ind., has run the mile in 4:12 and the 800 in 1:32. Allen has been the top runner for the Trail Blazers of Vincennes Junior College for the last two years. He joins a nucleus of three other area transfer students to SIUE—Stan Vannier, Centralia; Howie Bryant, Granite City; and Mark Swift, Alton.

8-4 win by Tri-City

Tri-City Post 113 players Bob Muehl and Randy Lyerla were praised by Coach Conrad "Babe" Champion Tuesday for four runs batted in each during an American Legion District 22

Baseball League win at Collinsville, 8-4. Lyerla also got the pitching win, walking four batters and fanning eight.

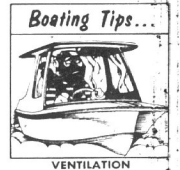

Each team scored a run in the opening inning. Collinsville on a solo home run and Tri-City when Tom Hennrich and Muehl doubled.

The local Legionnaires went ahead 5-1 in the second as Randy Smith singled, Lyerla homered, Hennrich drew a walk and Muehl homered.

Two runners made it home in the third when Mike Clark singled, Smith reached on an error, both advanced on a passed ball and Lyerla singled.

Collinsville sent two runners home in the third to narrow Tri-City's lead, and Post 113 added a run in the seventh on walks to Lyerla and Hennrich and singles by Keith Champion and Muehl.

Women's tourney beginning

Four Quad-City area women's softball teams will participate tomorrow in the Granite City Park District's eight-team double-elimination holiday slow-pitch tournament on diamond eight at Wilson Park.

It starts at 7 p.m. tomorrow and concludes Sunday.

Entered are local squads Petrillo Produce, Kentucky Fried Chicken, Sammy's Tavern and Bill's Auto Body. Competing also are Hecker, Ill., Collinsville, Comanches, Caseyville Bandsters and Morris City Merchants.

The four local teams also will be competing July 21-25 in a state tournament at Mt. Carmel, Ill.

Petrillo's opens the action at 7 p.m. Friday against Hecker, followed at 8 p.m. tomorrow by Kentucky Fried playing the Comanches.

At 9 p.m. tomorrow, Sammy's meets the Bandsters, and at 9 a.m. Saturday Morris City plays Bill's to conclude the opening round.

Victors of the four opening games play again at 1 and 2 p.m. Saturday, with a semifinal contest slated for 7 p.m. Saturday.

Teams suffering first-round losses will play Saturday at 10 and 11 a.m., with those winners playing losers of Saturday's semifinal games at 4 and 5 p.m.

Final day contests are scheduled for 1, 2 and 5 p.m. A 6 p.m. game Sunday will be held if a team suffers a first loss in the 5 p.m. contest.

Patrick, Goss triumph in cyclists' competition

Granite City's Marshall Patrick posted his first feature race win of the season at Tri-City Speedway Tuesday evening during an American Motorcycle Association-sanctioned racing program.

Patrick's victory in novice division competition was matched only by Michigan's Don Goss in the expert division main event.

The local rider took third place in a heat race behind Howard Knickenbacker and winner Lance Jones, and then led Rich Oston and Knickenbacker across the line in capturing a semi-main event.

Jones, Oston and Jim Greenlee placed behind Patrick in the feature.

Greenlee and Chris Mertens were novice heat race winners and Jones also won a semi-main event.

4-car crash on Interstate

Two men were injured in a four-car chain-reaction accident in a construction zone of Interstate 270 two-tenths of a mile west of Route Three at 4:15 p.m. Wednesday.

State police were told the auto and trailer of Wayne Buzzard, Phoenix, Ariz., were stopped for traffic in the westbound lane with the cars of Lee J. Powers, 68, St. Louis, and John Heveroh, 35, St. Louis, stopped behind. Westbound lanes are narrowed to one lane at that point due to pavement repairs.

The westbound auto of John Brusaatti, Maryville, then skidded into the rear of Heveroh's auto, pushing it forward into Powers' car, which then moved into Buzzard's trailer. Troopers were told, Brusaatti was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Heveroh and Powers were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where Heveroh was treated for neck and back pain and injuries to both knees and his left shoulder. He was released for treatment by his family doctor.

Powers was treated for chest pains. X-rays were taken and he was released.

'Faith of our fathers' foundation for third U. S. century

In 1776 there were some 3,000 churches of more than a dozen denominations in the American Colonies. Congregationalists were strongest. Next came Presbyterians, Baptists and Anglicans.

In the heady atmosphere of American freedom the Church of England was losing influence. Evangelists cruised across the land, preaching personal conversion in houses, barns, open fields, wherever people could be induced to assemble. Massachusetts was still a citadel of stern Puritanism, but toleration was being extended to others. Roman Catholics were free to maintain their own churches and worship as they chose.

Quakers were powerful in Pennsylvania, spreading their doctrine of simple Christianity with its emphasis on charity and logic, opposing all wars, including the Revolution. There were German and Swedish Lutherans, Dutch Reformed farmers, French Huguenots, Unitarians, itinerant Methodists and others. James Madison said the best guarantee of freedom is in a "multiplicity of sects."

Like many other prominent Anglicans, including George Washington, Madison recognized the fact that no single established church could possibly satisfy the needs of a diverse, scattered and expanding population. He obtained passage of the Religious Freedom Act of Virginia — originally drawn by Thomas Jefferson — by which entire religious liberty was granted. Taxes for the support of public worship and religious tests for holding office in that state were forbidden. In this great reform, Virginia set an example to be followed later in the U.S. Constitution.

During the nearly 200 years since the Constitution decreed that "Congress shall make no laws respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof," there has been both a flowering of many more faiths and a growth in the numbers of those who give allegiance to none.

Today, there are 221 major religious bodies in the United States with some 330,000 churches and a total membership of more than 131 million. The Roman Catholic church is strongest, with 48 million adherents. Average church attendance in all faiths is about 40 per cent of the adult population. It is estimated there are 101 million Americans who have no religious commitment.

"Alternate" religions — mysticism and various bizarre cults, as well as ancient Eastern practices — also are attracting thousands of followers.

"The fortresses of faith are experiencing the most profound alteration in centuries," says Leo Rosten, editor of a recent symposium of religion in America. "Church authority is being challenged on a dozen fronts. Traditional creeds are being drastically revised. Hallowed canons are being shelved. Religious practices are changing daily. Church leaders are beleaguered by new, bold, persistent demands — from their clergy no less than from their congregations."

Will basic faiths hold fast over the next 100 years? What will be the state of the church in 2076?

Many devout Christians find the answers in the Bible itself. They believe that already mankind is living in "the end time," that many of those now alive will witness a cataclysm, after which the Prince of Peace will come to reign over a post-doomsday world.

A less apocalyptic view is taken by Dr. C. Richard Shanor, a United Methodist clergyman and president of the San Diego (Calif.) Ecumenical Conference. "I think religion will still, as we have seen in the past, be a part of society and reflect a lot of the values of that society," he said. "Man is not going to change his basic needs, so that religion will be providing for him a sense of the transcendental as well as the immanent. The church will have to continue to meet those two basic needs of man."

Dr. Shanor believes that in the coming century "perhaps more than at any other time in our history," the Christian religion is going to be confronted by other world religions including those of the East, and that they will make a tremendous impact upon Christianity. Thus, Christianity will not be as exclusive as it has been in the past.

"Also, I think the authoritarian approach or the power that the Roman Catholic church has had over the fear of the afterlife will diminish," said Dr. Shanor.

He sees churches moving to smaller groups in the next century, and believes that many of the unorthodox cults currently in vogue will have disappeared.

"In the Church of 2076," said Dr. Shanor, "people will take into account values that come from the future as much as from the past. We already are aware of our limited resources on the space ship earth. The values by which people live together in a hundred years' time will be based more on those limitations and on an awareness of the earth's future, rather than looking back so much to Hebrew history."

Baptist teen torch run and state rallies

One hundred and twenty-five Baptist teenagers will re-create early Illinois history in a torch run that started near Waterloo Tuesday and will end at the state fairgrounds in Springfield on July 4.

The runners assembled at the New Design Baptist Historical Cemetery, three miles south of Waterloo, which was also the site of the earliest Baptist church in the Illinois Territory, organized in 1796.

From New Design, the runners formed a relay, covering about 30 miles a day and holding evening rallies enroute. The rallies will include Mascoutah, Worden, Carlinville and Virden.

The last runner will deliver the torch to the stage of the grandstand at the state fairgrounds, where a Freedom in Christ rally will be in progress on the night of Sunday, July 4.

Professional baseball player Alvin Dark will speak at the Springfield July 4 rally, set for 7 p.m. and expected to attract 8,000 persons.

A second Freedom in Christ rally is set for Monday afternoon, July 5, featuring a concert by Andrea Crouch and the Disciples, nationally-known gospel rock group.

Although sponsored by the Illinois Baptist State Association, the Springfield rallies are open to the general public and are a Bicentennial project of Baptists.

State student director Bob Blattner, who is in charge of the torch run, will award a Freedom torch shoulder patch to each of the participating teenagers.

Rites Tuesday for Mrs. Cherry, 77

Gravestone services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at Sunset Hill Cemetery for Mrs. Lillian Cherry, 77, of Perryville, Mo., formerly of Granite City.

Mrs. Cherry died at 1:25 p.m. Sunday at the Farmington (Mo.) Hospital, where she had been a patient one week.

Her husband, Dr. Milo Cherry, died in 1967.

Survivors include a daughter and son, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and one brother, Theodore F. Cherry of Granite City.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thursday, July 1, 1976 Page 19

RICHARD A. DAWDY
A former Granite City resident in Maryville with his wife, Maggie, and two sons, Rick and David, he has been elected to the board of directors of the First Bank of Maryville. Named cashier of the bank three years ago, he is now executive vice-president.

Gary Bilna dies at 22

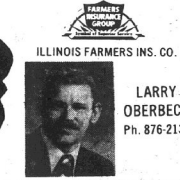

Gary Lee Bilna, 22, of 2528 Waterman Ave., a lifelong resident of Granite City, died at 9:23 a.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he had been a patient for four days. There will be an inquest. He had checked into a room at the Canal Hotel on West Chain of Rocks Road Thursday, June 24, and a motel employee called Madison County sheriff's deputies Saturday, saying Mr. Bilna had not been seen since Thursday. Deputies entered and found him unconscious in the bed. There were two empty pill bottles and a partially empty liquor bottle on a night stand. He then was taken by ambulance to the hospital, where he was admitted to the intensive care unit. He was employed for six months as an apprentice baker for Seibold's Bakery and was a member of St. Mark's Catholic Church, Venice. Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bilna, Buena Park, Calif.; two sisters, Kathy and Cindy Bilna of Buena Park; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Leona Cartwright and maternal step-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde O. Myers, all of Granite City; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bilna of Venice and his great-grandmother, Mrs. Carrie Thiele of Venice. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

BICYCLIST INJURED
Nikyha Vaughners, 11, of 1220 Logan St., Venice was admitted for observation to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1:30 p.m. Monday with bruises to the right side of the face, both knees and the left elbow. She was riding a bicycle at the intersection of Third and Jackson Streets, Madison, when she collided with an auto driven by Novella G. Magaby, 813 W. Washington St., Madison.

6-day Kid's Crusade opens Sunday

Stewart County Day held here

A June weekend was a memorable occasion for many Tennessee Stewart Countyans living in Granite City and surrounding areas. An estimated 100 were at Wilson Park to enjoy string music provided by Charles "Buck" Armstrong and the Mitzel families.

Vocal music was by the St. Louis Stamps Baxter Quartet, and also by the Armstrong and Mitzel families. Leon Carney was the bass singer in the Stamps Baxter Quartet, the former Stewart Countyman residing in Ferguson, Mo.

Grady Dodd, a longtime resident of Granite City, arranged for use of the facilities in Wilson Park. He and his wife, Annie, have been in the dry cleaning and alteration business here for many years.

Perry Greenhill, a Stewart Countyman and a retiree from Southwestern Bell, lives in St. Louis. He and Dodd worked closely in planning the program. Greenhill was the master-of-ceremonies and featured Tennessee jokes.

Lurton George, Delmar Ables, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Weston and Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds were among the guests of the day.

It was decided to meet next year on the first Sunday in June. Greenhill is anxious to have a complete charter list of persons attending.

Those who do not recall signing the guest register are to call him at (314) 647-5664 or Bess Carney at (314) 522-0106 or Mr. and Mrs. Grady Dodd in Granite City.

True to Stewart County tradition, the food was plentiful tasted like it was from "down home," participants said.

Gene and Esther Fiddler will arrive this weekend in Granite City to conduct a Kid's Crusade "Knights for Jesus" at Tri-City Park Tabernacle Church, Clark Avenue and Maryville Road South, opening at 9:45 a.m. Sunday.

The program will continue each evening from 7 to 8:30 through Friday, July 9.

"A warm welcome is extended to all children to come and enjoy this crusade," the Rev. J. Albert Calaway, pastor, said.

The Fiddlers are coming here from Kansas City, Mo., on their travels across the United States from their home in Washington state. The couple conducted a similar program at the local church a few years ago.

A 35-foot-wide "castle" and "throne" room will be erected in the church auditorium, and the crusade leaders will bring a puppet, "Mortimer," and several of his friends to provide added attraction, the local minister said.

"Knights for Jesus," the royal theme, will be portrayed throughout the program with use of special decorative effects, the Rev. Calaway noted.

Mrs. Eva Rice marks birthday

Mrs. Eva Rice celebrated her 90th birthday at a garden party given at her home, 812 Lee Ave., Madison, during the weekend. A buffet dinner was served throughout the day by members of her family.

Guests included Mrs. Frances (Tran) Ann Triant, Ella Ballinger, Agnes Crnkovich, Mr. and Mrs. William Crnkovich, Josephine Kern, Katie Kube, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Suich, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Suich, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Suich, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lippard, Tom Manning, Mr. and Mrs. David Thebeau and son, Joseph and Rose Rice, Charlotte Rice, Richard Bright, Mr. and Mrs. Greg Puszek, Veronica Nizinski, Jeanne Paskus, Jerry Nizinski, Joe Nela, Clifford Loyet, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Schoenhoffer, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Racheff, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Beserman and Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Podnar, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Barry, Ralph Kern, Jackie Tapp, Dorothy Bridick, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stajdhar, Theresa Baylake, Dawn Ray, Catherine Conreux, Elaine Prince.

Mary Bridick, Helen Papa, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Liszewski, Mayor and Mrs. Mike Sayak, Mrs. Helen Liszewski, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Pastain, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Yurko, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark, Bob Switek, Brennan, Mary Clarke, Josephine Knezevich, Irma Manning, Michelenne Karanges, Paula Prince, Father Ralph Scherrer, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mejaski, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thomas, Frances Zabacka.

John Sedlack, Jeanette Kern, Gary Novick, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Portell, Matt Babic, Pauline Miller, Joe Dobrowski, John Bilich, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dorn, Jeanette Loyet, Mary

Nelson, Mrs. Walter Dobrowski, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Neil, Mr. and Mrs. John Papa and Christopher, Mr. and Mrs. Al Herzog, Linda Herzog, Jim Rering, Mr. and Mrs. Lee McGarrahan, Mr. and Mrs. Kevin McGarrahan, Keith McGarrahan.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Matt Cieserich, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Champion, Shelly Champion, Steve Vukovich, Irene Molinar, Cleo Bizzo, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Brynan, Helen Baranovic, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Brynan Jr., all of St. Louis and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Podnar Jr. and Mary Stevenson of Kansas City, Mo.

Family at Boston meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marcotte and daughters Dana and Cindy were in Boston, Mass., for the annual meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist.

The Marcotte family are members of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 2560 Delmar Ave. They noted the sessions were basically an inspirational gathering and during the four-day event reports were given in the church's healing ministry, its publishing and service activities in the nation's Bicentennial year.

The Marcottes attended the Sunday service in Hines auditorium where closed circuit TV presented the service originating in the 5000 seat Mother Church Extension. The original Mother Church also carried the service for the 10,000 to 12,000 in attendance ac-ording to Mrs. Marcotte. They were in the Mother Church Extension for the evening testimonial meeting.

The overflow was handled by closed circuit TV in Hines auditorium, the original Mother Church and the Sunday School building. After the reading from the King James Version of the Bible and science and health with key to the scriptures, each meeting place had its own testimonial session which extended an additional 15 minutes as reported by Marcotte.

Cindy and Dana attended Sunday School in the new Sunday school building. Dana attended the meetings with her parents while Cindy was in the Hines auditorium where there were children's workshops, activities and child care for those under 12.

Trinity Tabernacle services

Trinity Tabernacle, 2001 Sixth St., Madison will hold a combination church and Bicentennial celebration on Sunday, July 4, according to the Rev. C. M. O'Guin, host pastor.

The church was founded 40 years ago by the late Rev. William Teeters and his wife, Mrs. Teeters who now resides in Madison.

The Rev. Leroy Filby will deliver the sermon at 11 a.m. when all charter members will be honored. An old fashioned dinner will be served at noon on the church grounds and at 2 p.m. the Singing Davis Family hold a song fest.

The Rev. O'Guin also announces plans for a tribute to America at the 7:30 p.m. services and invites area residents to attend the day of activities.

RECUPEATING HERE

Bob Sayles, 45, Hollister, Mo., is recuperating at St. Elizabeth Hospital after his right leg was broken and his back was injured as a hydrogen tank weighing about a ton fell on him from a truck near Interstate 270 and Route Three during the weekend. He underwent surgery.

Road name changes proposed

The possibility that three roads in Chouteau Township may receive new names under the county's uniform road and sign identification program was discussed by the Chouteau Township Board of Auditors Monday night.

One proposal would change the name of Morrison Road to Breckenridge Lane, connecting it via Lake Drive from Ponion Road in Ponion Beach to Maryville Road in Chouteau Township. The auditors expressed opinions against the change.

Also opposed is a proposal made by Venice Township to change Slough Road to Bauer Road through Venice, Nameki and Chouteau Townships. The third proposal was to change the name of Lakeview Drive, but that proposal has received little support and it is believed that the name will be left unchanged, officials said. The decisions will be made by the Madison County Community Development office in Edwardsville, it was said. The Chouteau Township Board signed agreements necessary for the development program to continue in the township after Monday night's discussion. The board also agreed to contact the Community Development office for literature concerning a proposed low-interest loan program for elderly and low-income residents wishing to improve their homes. A grant has been offered to establish the program, offering 2 1/2 per cent interest loans to persons who qualify. Final guidelines are nearing completion.

The board agreed to pay Chouteau Township's annual dues of $25 to the Illinois Township Officials Association. It was noted there will be a special joint meeting of the Township Board of Auditors and the township's Community Development Committee at 7 p.m. Tuesday, July 6, to discuss final plans for construction of a new town hall and community center building. The building is being jointly funded, at no direct cost to township taxpayers. It is to be constructed beside the present township garage, north of Interstate 270 behind the Midwest Motel. Regular town board meetings

County role in naming lighting district boards

The Nameki Town Board on Monday night voted to notify Madison County of recent trustee appointments to the State Park and Miracle Manor street light districts and to ask Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer to reappoint them. After the township appointments, it was discovered the authority to appoint trustees to those districts had been transferred to counties, instead of township boards. The Town Board also: —Heard a report from Highway Commissioner Albert Bell that he is awaiting survey and engineering reports on Ivy Lane and Dobrey Slough drainage improvements before preparing detailed plans for work in those areas.

Bell also said he has received petitions from residents of Eduardo Drive asking that parking on that street be banned due to persons parking there to visit a tavern. He said his attorney, Nick D. Vastler, is preparing an ordinance to ban parking on that street. A meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, July 6, was arranged for the auditors to audit the township's financial books. Bills ordered paid included $5,191 from town funds, $631 from revenue sharing, $1,334 from the general assistance fund, $2,542 from the road and bridge fund and $1,823 from the special hard road fund.

In other business, the board: —Approved payment to $125 annual dues to the Illinois Township Officials Association and were invited to the annual convention of that association Nov. 14-17 in Springfield. —Agreed to advertise for bids to have new roofing placed on the township highway garage. —Approved bidding on blacktopping the front of the Town Hall, the front of the highway garage and a parking lot west of the garage. —Agreed to pay the April, May and June electric bills of the State Park Street Light District when the June bills are received. A $1,500 federal revenue sharing grant previously was approved to aid the district in meeting its obligations. —Transferred $2,500 from the retirement fund to the district in meeting its obligations. The money is to be paid back with five per cent per year interest at that time.

COUGH! LOW ST. LOUIS

EVEN MORE PRICES THIS WEEK

But last week for the first time in 4 months, no other store had more low prices than Kroger so because Kroger is determined to stay the St. Louis area low price leader, we have lowered even more prices this week.

EVERY MAGICIAN must have a rabbit friend and O'Dowd is no exception as he makes "bunny" disappear from the cage in front of Sondra and pulls him from another box. O'Dowd and Sondra will appear with The Claytons, a whipsnapping and rope spinning act, and The Kents, hand and head balancing performers, in two free shows tonight at the Wilson Park ice rink pavilion.

Declaration signing, antique bells to peal Sunday at St. John

A re-enactment of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, part of a special program Sunday morning at St. John United Church of Christ, will climax with the pealing of the antique church bells, "just as the sound of liberty was pealed by the Liberty Bell 200 years ago in Philadelphia."

Steve Suss, St. John Bicentennial publicity chairman, said America's 200th birthday will be celebrated at the special worship service Sunday. Only one service (9:30 a.m.) is scheduled and the entire worship program will commemorate the Bicentennial year, Suss said. The Rev. Dr. Paul R. Surbey, pastor, will deliver the message.

Attired in period costumes will be Gene H. Sternberg, Elmer Stille, Bill Schreiber, Charles Ziegen, Carl Kohne, Walt Padgett, Larry Lippe, Charles Gauen, Russell Chappell and Rev. Surbey. They will present a re-enactment of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

The sequence was written by Suss, who will serve as narrator.

Pealing of the church bells will coincide with the signing. The oldest bell at St. John Church was purchased in 1882 and weighs 1,200 pounds. A new bell, acquired in 1902, weighs 618 pounds. In comparison, the Liberty Bell weighs a total of 2,080 pounds, Suss said. The Chancel Choir under the direction of Mrs. Irene Hupp will present "God Bless America" by Irving Berlin. Rev. Surbey has invited the public to attend "this once-in-a-lifetime service commemorating the American Bicentennial."

St. John United Church of Christ is located at 2901 Nameki Road.

Bicyclist hurt

An auto-bicycle collision at 12:10 p.m. Tuesday near the intersection of Wayne and Lynn Avenues resulted in injury to the cyclist, Clifford Robinson, seven, of 1928 Lynn Ave. Witnesses said the youth entered the street from behind a parked vehicle and was struck by an auto driven by Michael F. Costello of Lincoln, Neb. Robinson was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital and released following treatment of injuries to the right knee and the mouth.

Patchworkers exhibit projects

Local achievement night for members of the Patchworkers 4-H Club was held last week at St. Elizabeth School Hall for the club members to display their projects and present various demonstrations.

Karen Toussaint gave a demonstration on "Refrigerator Cheese Cake" and a talk on "Nutrition" was by Joan Krystopa.

The girls enrolled in sewing projects presented a style show of clothing they had made. First year students Sue Burnett, Mary Loftus, Joan Krystopa and Christie Kessler modeled skirts and scarves and second year girls Ann Fuller, Karen Toussaint, Debbie Burnett and Wendy McIlvoy modeled dresses and tops.

Wendy McIlvoy gave her state fair winning speech entitled, "To Be or Not To Be." Items displayed for the evening included nine crocheted articles; 17 ceramic items; five displays of cookies for the "Learn to Bake" project; five hard boiled egg exhibits for the "Let's Start Cooking" project; two for the "Milk and Eggs in Your Diet" and two for "Teen Time Food Fare," a "Fun with Children" display and eight wastebaskets for the "Let's Make Something For Your Room" project.

Club officers Debbie Burnett, Wendy McIlvoy, Donna Wilmameyer, Sue Burnett and Lydia Loftus were given macrame necklaces as gifts in appreciation for their year in office.

Ceramic flower watering worms were presented to Mesdames Jan Wilmameyer, Rose Krystopa, Kathy Busch, Sharon Loftus, Carol Kessler and Ann Palsgrove, mothers of members who were cited for outstanding work with the group.

Leader Mrs. Martha McIlvoy announced anyone who planned to participate in the foods demonstration at Edwardsville should return their registrations to her no later than Friday.

After the session punch and cookies were served by Debbie Burnett, Wendy McIlvoy, Lydia Loftus and Christie Kessler. The table center piece was an arrangement of pastel colored spring flowers later awarded as a prize to Christie Kessler.

Other members present included Winona Cox, Carole Bunch, Linda and Fattie Grebel, Michelle Loftus, Deanne and Donna Wilmameyer and guests Martha Burnett, Florence Polasek, Nona Fuller, Joyce Toussaint, Ann Pare, Rosalie Johannigmeier, Madge Ramsey, Joyce Jachino and daughter Janet, Debbie and Darla Wilmameyer.

Mount Zion plans special service

Mount Zion General Baptist Church, 2067 Benton St., will observe the nation's 200th birthday on Sunday, July 4, with a "I Love America" service beginning at 9:45 a.m. according to the Rev. Donald Clark, pastor.

Guest speaker will be the Rev. L. E. Hicks who will deliver the morning sermon. Special songs are planned for the event the minister added.

Lower Nameoki rate certified

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors Monday night received official certification of the tax rates for the township for the 1975 tax year, to be collected this year.

The total rate for general township purposes is 36.6 cents per $100 assessed valuation. This would produce the total levy of $177,262 if there would be full collection.

The rate is down two-tenths of one cent per $100 assessed valuation from last year's rate of 36.8 cents, while the levy is up $346 from $176,916 last year.

The rate given does not include the separate rate for highway purposes.

The drop in the town rate is due to two factors, increase in the township's valuation from $46,657,396 in 1974 to $46,864,116 in 1975, and Madison County state's attorney ruling that the county clerk may no longer add two per cent to rates not at their maximum to compensate for less than full collection of taxes.

On June 15, Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles certified a tax rate of 36.9 cents for Nameoki Township and that rate was lowered to 36.6 cents after the state's attorney's ruling. Only the township's general fund rate was changed by the ruling, as it was lowered from 25 cents on June 15 to 24.7 cents in the adjusted June 24 figures.

The new general fund rate supports a levy of $115,702. Last year's rate of 24.97 cents supported a $116,456 levy in that fund.

The rate for the general assistance fund is set by law at a maximum of 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation and was not affected by the state's attorney's ruling.

The levy increased from $51,960 last year to $53,060 for this year's tax collections, but the increase will not directly affect taxpayers, since only 10 cents can be collected for general assistance purposes.

Retirement was left at 1.9 cents per $100 assessed valuation, unchanged by the ruling. It is up from 1.83 cents last year but the levy of $8,500 is the same as last year for retirement.

The new tax levies and rates were noted by the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors at this week's meetings.

Miss Eicher, 86, dies

Miss Mable Eicher, 86, of 2234 Delmar Ave., ill for a year, died at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 5:30 a.m. Tuesday. She had been a patient there for three days.

Born in Sumnerfield, Ill., Miss Eicher resided in Granite City for 50 years.

She had been employed as a milliner for a St. Louis firm prior to her retirement.

Miss Eicher was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church.

She is survived by a sister, Miss Ruth Eicher of Granite City.

An obituary notice is given elsewhere in this issue.

International day for Rotary

It was "international day" at the Granite City Rotary's Tuesday luncheon meeting held at the YMCA as a high school exchange student from Australia was the guest speaker. A Rotarian from South India was a guest.

Narelle Beaumont, whose home is in Griffith, New South Wales, Australia, talked to the Rotarians about her home and showed slides of business, industry and customs of the people in Griffith.

Also a guest at the meeting was Soriya of South India, a 10-year Rotarian visiting his cousin, Dr. Prasanna Kumar of Granite City.

A major difference in schooling between Australia and the United States is that Australia has no junior high schools, the club was told. Classes extend from elementary to the seventh or tenth grades, it was related.

At the completion of the tenth grade, a student has the option of continuing with two more years and then entering a university or stopping at the end of the tenth year and entering a trade school, Miss Beaumont said.

She pointed out that in Australian schools there are no social activities connected with school programs.

Rotarian Roy Stroyeck of Edwardsville, with whose family she is staying, has his son, Jeff, staying with her parents in Griffith.

Challenge accepted by industry leaders

(33rd of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)

From the point of view of the Granite City Steel Company, if the company did not buy newly-available equipment during the 1930s, its future would be bleak.

For many years, the local plant had made flat-rolled sheet steel by the old hand method.

When the continuous rolling mill—a massive, complicated machine—was devised, it became apparent that before many years the hand mill would be obsolete.

But sales and income were at low levels due to the economic depression. And a single hot strip continuous mill would cost $2 million, a figure within a few million dollars of what the entire company was worth at that time.

When Granite City Steel was formed as a separate entity in 1927, George W. Niedringhaus became chairman of the board of directors and Alfred J. Kieckhefer was named president.

On Nov. 8, 1927, George's son, Hayward, was elected vice-president and general manager. George W. Niedringhaus died in early 1928.

Hayward Niedringhaus was elected president and general manager on June 15, 1930.

Earnings on the common stock declined due to the depression, reaching five cents in 1932, after which they began to rise, aided by the low price of scrap steel and the relative stability of the tin plate market.

The problem of adapting to changing technology was especially acute because of its timing. And the problem was extraordinarily severe because all of the local company's sales were in flat-rolled products.

Hayward Niedringhaus accepted the challenge in 1935.

With the same courage and faith in the future which prompted his pioneer ancestors to build the first mills in Granite City, he set himself to the job of modernizing the mill.

In 1935, the nation was still in the midst of the depression. It appeared almost impossible to finance even a partial modernization program.

But Hayward Niedringhaus appeared before the stockholders and board of directors with a carefully laid plan for making the necessary improvements.

3 injured at Bend signals

Three people were injured and two signal lights were destroyed in an accident during the weekend on Route 203 at Bend Road.

The pickup truck of Ronald Lee Niles, 21, Florissant, Mo., was towing a car south and was beside another southbound car when a red panel van started to pass the truck on the left. The van swerved into Niles' lane, causing Niles to lose control when his truck's brakes locked.

The truck and car being towed skidded sideways and the truck hit a traffic light standard, breaking the standard. The truck then turned on its side, struck a curb, knocked down a sign and righted itself before coming to rest.

The car being towed broke loose, flipped over, knocked down another traffic signal standard and then struck the left rear of the car of John F. Marion, 44, Brooklyn, who had stopped to turn left.

Marion was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was treated for a puncture wound to his face and a minor head injury. He was released after treatment.

Niles and a passenger in his car, Gary A. Niles, 14, also of Florissant, suffered injuries and said they would see their doctor.

State school aid adopted but nobody knows how much will be forwarded

While the Illinois legislature has been wrangling with several different proposals to change the state aid reimbursement formula for public schools, most observers feel bills now sent to Gov. Dan Walker will give him wide latitude in deciding how much school districts actually will receive during the next school year.

Tully A. Heubner, director of business affairs for Granite City public schools, said the district is making no plans for less or more money next year until it is clear what formula has been adopted by the state and signed by the governor.

"This whole thing has been confusing and it appears we will not know what this legislation is going to do to us until it becomes law," Heubner commented, adding, "All we can do is keep plugging that we will receive about the same amount next year that we did this year."

Bills submitted to the governor after legislative action Tuesday include a revised state aid formula that would give the Granite City district about $400,000 more than last year, but would fall about $18,578 short of what would be considered "full-funding" under the old formula. The state has not fully funded the old formula for several years. It is estimated Madison could receive a $112,000 increase over last year while Venice would remain the same as 1975-76 or possibly lose a small amount.

School officials said explanations of the bill, thus far, have come from several different sets of figures. Predictions of increases or losses have been "comparing apples to oranges," as B. J. Davis, superintendent of the Granite City schools, describes the diversity of conflicting figures he has received.

It is felt the new formula would harm some districts, including Chicago, which would lose about $55 million, and East St. Louis, which could lose about $1 million.

Companion bills to the new formula include one passed by the Senate Tuesday appropriating $1.28 billion to fund the formula; another with $22 million to protect Chicago, East St. Louis, Granite City, Belleville and certain other districts from sharp declines from last year's levels of state aid; and a $869.4 million appropriation to fund grants to districts for driver education, special food programs for low-income students, salaries for teachers of the handicapped and other programs.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thursday, July 1, 1976 Page 24

Gov. Walker could approve the new revised formula and the $869.4 million grant program while vetoing the $22 million bill protecting districts from severe drops in state funding levels.

He also has the option of trimming the new formula by a percentage, as has been done in recent years.

An amendment tacked onto the state aid reimbursement bill would "forgive" the Chicago schools about half of the $55 million in state aid it is to lose because it closed classes early this year.

Another amendment requires school districts facing financial shortages to lay off teachers by a seniority formula, with those hired last being the first to be laid off.

Madison faces assessment loss

By WALTER F. STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Concern over a possible $20,000 to $25,000 projected loss in tax revenues this year was expressed by Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk to the City Council at its Tuesday evening meeting.

The city's assessed valuation this year will decline approximately $1 1/4 million, it was related.

"Al Hudzik, our city controller, and I met this morning with Mrs. Margaret Reidelberger, Venice Township tax assessor, to figure out why there was such a large loss this year," Mayor Sasyk said.

"We know that there has been over the past several years a steady decline in the city's property assessment and part of this is in regard to the Conaco plant, but we don't know what else happened."

"Mrs. Reidelberger said she would review the past 10-year span for us and we will have a detailed report to the council at our next meeting," Mayor Sasyk said.

Philip Thebeau of the EMT Ambulance service 1417 21st St., was granted permission to talk to the council about his service.

Thebeau explained that his personnel were trained as emergency medical technicians and can give treatment at accident scenes and enroute to the hospital.

Thebeau said emphatically that his ambulance service does not and would not "jump" other firm's calls.

Thebeau's remarks set off several comments from aldermen who complained about various aspects of service from another ambulance firm. Allegations related to speed and control of vehicles.

Mayor Sasyk said, "I know there are complaints and I will talk to the fire and police chiefs and have them voice these at our next council meeting. Then the council can hear them and take whatever action is deemed necessary."

City Attorney Casper S. Nigobossian reported that a new hearing date in an injunction proceeding against the city—in which Louis E. McCoy of the Quad-City Health System is seeking to void a license revocation order—will be held within 30 days.

Nigobossian said the Health System may remain open while the case is under appeal and the matter could go to the State Supreme Court. He said there is a constitutional argument over authority of the state or city to license under the Illinois Physical Therapy Act of September 1974.

Third Ward Alderman Ronald Grzywacz said, "I realize there have been some efforts at weeding out in the 1600 block of Kennedy Avenue, but the Comprehensive Employment Training Act workers aren't doing a really good job and we need to get a bulldozer in there."

"Unfortunately, these are not city employees and their work does leave something to be desired," Mayor Sasyk replied.

"Right after we get past the holidays we will work out a better way to get something done there."

An ordinance designating a stop at the intersection of Greenwood Street and James Avenue was passed.

The council approved payment of $30,130 in city bills for the period of June 16-29, and passed a resolution calling for sale of city-owned property at 1418, 1422 and 1426 Third St. and 1617 Fifth St.

Mrs. Ridgeway succumbs

Mrs. Lottie Ridgeway, 82, of 2205 E. 24th St., ill for five weeks, died at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday at Colonial Haven Nursing Home. She had resided at the nursing home here since January 1973.

Born in Robinson, Ill., she had resided in this area for 63 years.

Mrs. Ridgeway was a member of the Methodist faith. Her husband, Thomas Ridgeway, died in 1951.

Survivors include three sons, Floyd, Lee and Ralph.

Cleaning lady accosted by 2

A cleaning lady identified only as Mrs. Lee was accosted by two men who broke into the home of Associate Judge Robert Francis, 3244 Erin Drive, at 11:15 a.m. Tuesday and dragged her across a room before pushing her down to the floor. They warned, "Stay down and you won't get hurt."

She had heard a noise in the house and, upon investigating, was grabbed and pulled by the hair into the living room before being pushed to the floor.

After warning her, the assailant shouted, "Let's get out of here."

Witnesses said two men in an old car had pulled into the driveway and parked their car inside the garage. A door between the garage and kitchen was discovered forced open. Nothing was believed to be missing from the home.

Expect ruling on Ricco's II license Friday

The Illinois Liquor Control Commission met Monday in Chicago and considered an appeal by Ricco's II Lounge of a license revocation order issued by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, city liquor control commissioner.

The state commission requested more time to study the issue, but a decision is expected by tomorrow on whether the board will uphold or overturn the revocation order, according to Thomas Murphy, executive director of the state commission.

The decision is to be based solely upon the written transcript of a license hearing in Granite City in December.

The hearing here followed a Dec. 8 fatal shooting and a stabbing on a parking lot near the lounge.

Wanda L. Bell married in evening ceremony

The wedding of Miss Wanda L. Bell and Michael E. Turner was solemnized at 8 p.m. on June 18 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gribble, 2523 Madison Ave.

Officiating at the double ring service was the Rev. Jack Cox of Granite City.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Dawson of Arnold, Mo., and L. A. Bell of Madison. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Marion Turner of Mitchell.

Attending the couple was Miss Samatha Gribble and Tony Turner.

The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Turner are residing at 1308 Grand Ave., Madison. The bride is employed at Curt's Grill in Granite City and her husband works for the IPC Transfer Co., Madison.

Coryell-Voss nuptials at Trinity Methodist

Miss Deborah K. Voss and Donald Coryell were united in marriage on June 27 in an afternoon double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Ellis Dugger at Trinity United Methodist Church.

After a program of organ music, the bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her father. She wore a full-length gown of ecru batiste with inserts of matching lace.

Maid of honor Miss Cindy Wallace chose a long aqua gown. Both carried nosegays of multi-colored daisies and the bride wore a crown of daisies in her hair.

Attending the groom as best man was Steve Hamm.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Billy J. Voss, 2425 Adams St. The groom is a son of Mrs. David Woodin, 3004 Ash Ave.

STEVE KONKOVICHS TOUR HISTORIC AREA

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Konkovich, 2802 Dogwood Drive, have spent two weeks on a guided tour of historic regions in the southern and eastern sections of the country.

The couple visited Cape Hatteras, N.C., and saw Kitty Hawk, where the Wright brothers made their first flight. In Richmond, Va., they spent some time at the church made famous by Patrick Henry's "Give me liberty or give me death" speech and at Monticello, home of Thomas Jefferson.

In Norfolk, Va., the Konkovichs visited the General Douglas MacArthur Memorial. At Yorktown they toured the area's historic battle grounds and also various locales near Jamestown and Williamsburg.

"The entire region has a 'Spirit of '76' enthusiasm in its reception of tourists during the Bicentennial Year," the Granite City couple commented.

NEWLYWEDS. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Soboleski Jr. who were married in a morning ceremony at the Old Cathedral in St. Louis. The bride is the former Brenda Susan Barney, a daughter of Mrs. Bernice Barney of St. Louis and Albert Barney of Belvidere, Ill.

Brenda S. Barney weds Stanley Soboleski Jr.

The Old Cathedral in St. Louis was the scene of the wedding of Miss Brenda Susan Barney and Stanley Soboleski Jr. at 9 a.m. on May 29, performed by Father Albert Rotola.

Miss Barney, a daughter of Mrs. Bernice Barney of St. Louis and Albert Barney of Belvidere, Ill. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy J. Voss, 2425 Adams St.

Nuptial selections, "Glory Looking Day," "Dear Father," "Amen" and "Kyrie" were played by Debbie Williamson, Peter Steuterman and Phil Atkins and sung by Rick Jones and Miss Williamson.

Readings during the wedding mass were given by Dolores Brinker, a sister of the groom, and Susan Conant and Peter Hessel who served as maid of honor and best man.

Other members of the bridal party included Barbara Dyer, a sister of the bride, Karen Hodapp, Leonard Koliste and Frank R. Reidelberger III.

Bicentennial services Sunday at St. Peter's

Miss Carol Kinney will read her award winning essay, "What the Liberty Bell Means To Me" during the special Bicentennial worship service at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard. Carol won first place in the McDonald essay contest for Madison and St. Clair Counties and along with a U. S. Savings Bond for her, won a replica of the liberty bell for the city which is on display at city hall.

The Rev. Robert Kettelhut's sermon topic will be "Can I Keep It?" All church school children will attend the service which will include a special story for them on one of the historic churches of our nation.

Christ Church in Philadelphia. Special music throughout the worship will be provided by Dr. Robert Hutcheson, organist-choralemaster. The worship will begin with the presentation of the American and Christian flags by Cub Scouts Robbie Fawcett and Tom Buentz. Child care will be provided.

Ample parking is available on the lot adjacent to the church. Ushers will be on duty to assist the handicapped. On this the 200th Birthday of our nation, all without a church home are invited to the worship service. Later in the afternoon of July 4, St. Peter's 75 year old church bell will ring out with the bells from around the nation, joining with the liberty bell in a salute to the Bicentennial, the pastor announced.

St. Bartholomew services

The Bicentennial of the United States will be marked at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, 22nd Street and Grand Avenue, Sunday with a special service at 10:30 a.m. which will be unique in that it will conform, as nearly as possible, with the order of worship in a colonial Anglican Church in the year 1776. The service will consist of Matins and holy communion according to the use of the Church of England in that year.

Father Wilbur Lear, the rector of St. Bartholomew's will be using a copy of the Book of Common Prayer printed only eight years after the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

And several of the hymns to be used are taken from the Tate and Brady Psalter which was the hymnal in use in the Episcopal churches at the time.

The vestments and other items used in the service will be in conformity with the style of the period. The lector for the service will be John Mefford, a layreader in the parish who recently starred in the Masquers Production of the musical "1776".

There will be the only service held in St. Bartholomew's on July 4th and the regular Saturday evening and early services are being canceled for this date only, the Rev. Lear reports.

Eagles Auxiliary aids state charity projects

Mrs. Ruth Paubel newly installed president of the Eagles Auxiliary 1126 conducted her initial meeting of the club year and gave a review of the convention held in June at the Collinsville Holiday Inn.

The president noted there are 77 auxiliaries in the state and Mrs. Evelyn Depent of East St. Louis, the retiring state president, announced a $10,000 grant was given to Southern Illinois University Carbondale heart research center.

A total of $45,000 was given to various charities of the state at the annual meeting, to aid the handicapped, contribute to the Jimmy Durante Crippled Children's fund, Golden Eagle fund, Eagles Educational Fund and the City of Hope fund headed locally by Mrs. Angie Buehler.

Margie Hall, Nancy Mullen, Alma Sedabres, Helen Frazier and Dolores Sanders all members of the Granite City ritual team participated in an initiation of 17 candidates including three from the local auxiliary.

Among those initiated was Jacqueline Brown, Kay Portell and Kathy Thomas.

In the state ritual competition Granite City was awarded a second place and in the outstanding officer category Mrs. Mullen was selected as the outstanding president.

During the local business session Mrs. Angie Buehler presented a trophy to Mrs. Cora Barr for her assistance in fund raising projects for the City of Hope. Mrs. Helen Frazier, auxiliary secretary, then read a letter from the City of Hope commending the chairman Mrs. Buehler for the donations. The communication related that three titles will be inscribed "Granite City, Ill. Eagles Auxiliary 1126" and will be installed on the medical center's front wall.

Gifts presented during the meeting were in honor of Betty Lyons, junior past president; Mrs. Paubel, president; Dolores Sanders, Helen Frazier and Florence Hagnauer who served as installing officers at the convention.

The president presided at a memorial service and draped the charter in memory of two deceased members, Mrs. Cora Hettich and Mrs. Ruby Hartline.

During the social hour games were played and prizes won by Betty Rita and Saine Harorian. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Hagnauer. Mrs. Theresa Schuler and Mrs. Buehler.

MRS. HENDRICKS HOSTS PAST NOBLE CLUB

The Past Noble Grand Club of Ann Rutledge Rebekah Lodge met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Irene Hendricks, 2711 Madison Ave., for a noon luncheon and social afternoon.

President Mrs. Clara Harbig conducted a business meeting followed by card games. Those winning prizes were Marvill Clover, Anne Kunemann and Mrs. Harbig.

Mrs. Harbig reported a member, Mrs. Vera Schilling, is ill. Guests attending were Sophia Young and Clara Redmond.

Mrs. Helen Love will host the next meeting.

Tamora Mertz is bride elect

Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Mertz, 4497 Vine Ave., announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Tamora E. Mertz and Thomas L. Ambuehl at a family dinner party held in their home.

The prospective groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Ambuehl, 1722 Maple St. He is a graduate of Granite City High School South and attended Belleville Area College for two years. He is now employed at the Steel Packaging Co. Miss Mertz was graduated from North High School and the Hickey School of Business in St. Louis. She presently works as a secretary at Mercantile Trust Co., St. Louis.

The engaged couple and their families are completing plans for a Nov. 20 wedding.

Deaf group plans parade entry

Leon Hudson, president of the Cahokia Chapter of Illinois Association of the Deaf, announces the organization will enter a float in the Cahokia 13-Star Day Parade on Saturday, July 3, and will also sponsor a Deaf Awareness booth at the celebration.

The informational booth will be located directly across from the Holy Family Church in Cahokia and will feature alphabet sign language cards and other literature on deafness. A telephone teletype system including a new commercial model called "The Interpreter" which is a light weight model electric typewriter to adapt to a decoder for telephone use for the deaf will be exhibited, Hudson announces.

Also on display will be the door bell "baby cry" for cribs and the alarm clock used by the deaf.

The president reports items to be offered for sale will be a sign language book entitled "A Basic Course in Manual Communication," a book on deafness "The Grow in Silence" and necklaces inscribed with "I Love You."

Hudson and his wife, Mary

Lou, will be at the booth both Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Hudson who is hearing will be able to interpret if necessary for anyone interested in the displays.

Skating party for Marianna Oliver, 6

Marianna Oliver, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Oliver, 2547 E. 24th St., celebrated her sixth birthday during the weekend at a skating party at the Stardust Roller Rink.

A ballerina theme was carried out in the table appointments and birthday cake. Miniature ballerina figurines were presented to the guests as favors and the honoree received a larger version.

Among those attending the party were the honored guest, brother and sister, Joey and Dianne, her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Rehelek, and Mrs. Sophie Berni, Lillie Lamsaw, Melinda Knowland, Mrs. Marie Kostoff and children, Dawn and Joe.

Mrs. Judy Bucatch and children, Jamie and Jason, Jaime and Lisa Ybarra and Miss Pat Dineff, all of Granite City, and Miss Jennifer Murray of Alton.

BETROTHED. Miss Tamora E. Mertz and Thomas L. Ambuehl whose engagement and plans for a November wedding are being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Mertz, 4497 Vine Ave. (Markely Studios)

Jaycee, Jaycee-Ette awards and installation

Granite City Jaycees and Jaycee-Ettes held their 1976-77 installation banquet during the weekend at the Officers Club of the Granite City Army Depot. After the social hour, dinner and installation, there was a presentation of awards, followed by dancing to the music of the Sting Rays. Chairman of the Board Mike Bledsoe, outgoing president, installed the new president, John Jones, who then installed his new officers as follows: Internal vice-president, Dave Johnson; external vice-president, Randy Hill; secretary, Jerry Mann; treasurer, Don Vaughn; state director, Jerry Gann; Directors, Bob Burgess, Frank Ramsey, Owen Ross and Steve Anderson; and parliamentarian, Bill Weible. "Spoke" awards went to Dave Johnson, Mike Bledsoe, Ed Gammon and Frank Ramsey. "Spark plug" awards went to Jerry Gann, Owen Ross and Guy Cooper, and named as "Jaycee of the year" was Owen Ross. The Jaycee presidential award of honor went to Mrs. Linda Vaughn. Key man of the year was Bill Weible.

Mrs. Carolyn Jones, outgoing president, installed Mrs. Patricia Aleman as 1976-1977 Jaycee-Ette president. Mrs. Aleman installed: vice-president, Wanda Hill; secretary, Bobbie Hatfield; and treasurer, Linda Weible. Jaycee-Ette of the year recognition went to Mrs. Carolyn Jones.

Final Monday council session

The Granite City Council held its final regular Monday night meeting this week. The councilmen unanimously approved an ordinance changing the regular meeting night to Tuesdays. The council now will meet in regular session on the first, third and fourth Tuesdays of each month, rather than the first, third and fourth Mondays. It is the first such change in meeting nights in 15 years. The change to Tuesday nights was requested at the previous week's council meeting by Alderman Clyde Boyd of the Third Ward and the council instructed its city attorney to prepare an ordinance revising the meeting schedule. While the ordinance will not take effect until ten days after legal publication today, the next meeting also will be held on a Tuesday, July 6, since Monday, July 5, is a holiday. July meetings of the council will all be on Tuesday—July 6, 20 and 27—all starting at 8 p.m. The new ordinance contains the same provision as the former ordinance that, when the regular meeting date falls on a holiday, the meeting will be held on the next night. The council also studied a report from Monroe Brewer, city engineer, on meetings held between the city and officials of Lipsett Steel Products Inc., 2520 E. 22nd St., on the possibility of changing the main entrance to the plant from East 23rd Street to Edwardsville Road (Route 162). It was noted that Granite City Steel owns the property involved in the proposed access road and GC Steel officials are to be contacted about a possible entry road either from Route 162 or from August Street. Complaints from residents of East 23rd Street about noise, dust and vibrations from large trucks prompted the city to request planning for an alternate entrance. Brewer told the council that new procedural requirements have expanded the scope of planning under way for a proposed overpass on 19th Street between West Granite City and the Downtown area. He said an additional $15,000 would be needed for engineers to meet the new state Department of Transportation requirements. The council voted to appropriate $15,000 from motor fuel taxes for the additional studies. The council already has spent $37,500 in planning for the overpass and the additional $15,000 brings the total for planning to $52,500. It is hoped that all state requirements can be completed and actual design work started by Dec. 1, Brewer said. Mayor Paul Schuler was authorized to enter into an agreement with the new Colonial Bank of Granite City, formalizing police services to the bank. The street department was asked to assist the Veterans of Foreign Wars in placing 106 flags on utility poles along Madison Avenue in preparation for the July 3 Bicentennial parade. A request by John and Mary Konorick, 1501 Edwardsville Road, for annexation of their property into the city was referred to the Granite City Plan Commission for study and a recommendation. Two-hour parking limits were ordered for Clark Avenue from Namook Road and to the east for 200 feet, and for the 1600 block of Delmar Avenue at G. H. Sternberg & Co. property. Street department officials noted that Illinois Power Co. has agreed to replace patches in Gary Avenue which have sunk a few inches and are presenting a potential hazard to traffic. The street department was authorized to loan necessary lumber to the city's Bicentennial Committee to help prepare the city's float for the July 3 parade.

Open house at office of assessor

The Granite City Township Assessor's Office, 1316 Niedringhaus Ave., which has been remodeled in a patriotic Bicentennial theme, will be the scene of an open house from Tuesday, July 5, through Friday, July 9, to give residents an opportunity to view the remodeled office and to ask questions concerning their assessments and tax bills. Von Dee Cruse, assessor, reported this week. Coffee and refreshments will be served during the open house. The office is decorated in red, white and blue, and the walls have a large historical mural, a patriotic tapestry and numerous paintings and pictures depicting the nation's past. It will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each day of the open house, but will be closed from noon to 1 p.m. each day for lunch, Cruse said.

Venice observance of Bicentennial Saturday

Visitors to Lee Park in Venice Saturday afternoon, between 1 o'clock and dusk, will receive a warm welcome from residents celebrating the Bicentennial.

Mrs. Margaret Painter, general chairman said, "When our Venice float reaches the top of the Broadway viaduct, the fire siren will sound and we want everyone along Broadway to join hands, making a human link, which will be our way of saying happy birthday, America, and 'Welcome to Main Street, U.S.A.' at Lee Park."

Mrs. Valeta Bauder, float chairman, reports everything for the City of Venice float is ready, and the theme of the float is being kept secret until the parade.

The "Looking Glass Players" will present three shows of music and dancing in Lee Park on Saturday, as a phase of the community's Bicentennial observance.

Immediately after the parade is over, there will be games, displays and foods for all ages.

The performance time for the "Looking Glass Players" has been set for 2:30 p.m., 4:30 p.m. and again when festivities conclude with sing-along at approximately 7 p.m.

Inside the recreation center will be displays of work done by Venice school children in relation to Venice history and the Bicentennial, including posters, poems, essays and models.

Seven $25 U.S. savings bonds will be awarded to the top seven entries. Seven $10 checks and seven $5 checks also will be awarded.

Special displays of old documents and pictures will be featured in the Venice Library. The items have been loaned for the event by senior citizens. This display will be left up for all of next week.

A special "history of Venice" in a scroll will be given to all citizens of Venice.

The Italian Ladies Club will serve spaghetti and a booth on Venice industries is being prepared by Milton Morris.

Among organizations participating are: Newport Homecoming Association, games for children; Venice Red Devil Bonnets, tea, snow cones and popcorn; St. Mark's Church Women, homemade bakery goods; Ladies Democratic Club, sewing and crafts; Odd Fellows Lodge 719, fish sandwich stand.

Catholic Youth, sale of hot dogs. Venice Homecoming Committee, historical display; and Modern Study Club, "Ye Olde Flower Shoppe."

In addition to softball and baseball games, children's games will be featured throughout the afternoon.

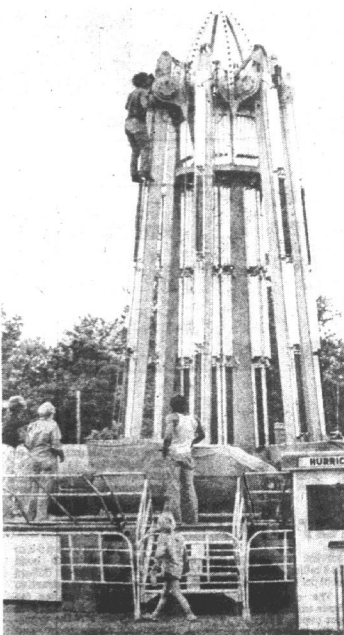

The children will be divided into three age groups: four-, five- and six-year-olds; seven- and eight; and nine through 11. Games to be played, under the direction of Alfred D. Crawford, are: sack races, tug-of-war, potato race, three-legged race, relays and a wheelbarrow race. Bicentennial trophies will be presented to the winners.

"Our City" Hall, library, recreation hall and Lee Park form a complete and compact complex. We plan to utilize all of these facilities and each will depict our country's history," Mrs. Painter relates.

"Main Street" was a flourishing area, with many business houses and hotels, a grain elevator, stock yards and a flour mill, livery stable and easy accessibility to both railroads and the river for shipping.

"Our proud heritage will be shown in numerous displays. We have tried to reach out to all Venice citizens for this memorial event—kindergarten children to our senior citizens."

"Our committee is requesting that all Venice citizens, young and old, dress as our forefathers did, back in the good old Main Street days," Mrs. Painter concluded.

EVERYTHING READY TO GO. Workmen for the Ray Sweeney Amusement Co. check the final carnival ride to be erected Wednesday in preparation for last night's midway opening at Wilson Park Fourth of July festivities. The midway and concession stands will operate today and Friday from 6 p.m. until 11 p.m. and on Saturday and Sunday from 1 p.m. to 11 p.m. Children's matinees are scheduled today and Saturday from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. with reduced rates on all rides.

MOTORCYCLIST HURT

Richard Thompson, 24, of 2135 Orville Ave., suffered a sprain to the right leg upon falling to the pavement after losing control of his motorcycle at 4:40 a.m. Tuesday at 28th Street and Madison Avenue. He was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He said he lost control of the cycle when he thought an auto was about to pull out in front of him from a side street.

BELLS OF LIBERTY WILL RING here at 1 p.m. Sunday, July 4. Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler and Mrs. Ralph A. (Janet) Wilson, regent, Drusilla Andrews Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, examine plans for "Bells on Independence Day." The occasion has been proclaimed by Gov. Daniel Walker for statewide observance. The two stand beside Granite City's replica of the Liberty Bell; the bell was won by Miss Carol Kinney for the City Hall this spring in a Bicentennial essay contest. DAR chapters throughout the United States are urging all citizens and organizations to simultaneously ring bells at 1 p.m. (Central daylight time) on July 4, 1976, to mark the U.S. Bicentennial.

BICENTENNIAL WELCOME TO VENICE. A large banner greets visitors to Venice and issues an invitation to Bicentennial festivities to be held in Lee Park Saturday from 1 p.m. until dusk. "Proud heritage" is the theme of the Venice celebration of the nation's 200th birthday. This view is looking west on Broadway in the '700 block. A similar banner is at the other end of Broadway.

"YOU GOTTA BE HAPPY"

NEWS ANALYSIS Illinois debt up sharply

By RAY SERATI

SPRINGFIELD—To some people Rep. Donald L. Totten, R-Hoffman Estates, might appear to be a worried man, and he just might be.

What probably worries Totten isn't one of those glamorous issues which excite the electorate. Totten is watching closely the amount of bonds being issued and sold by the state for various projects and what goes along with the bonds—debt service.

The memorandum prepared for Totten says that the state of Illinois has authorized $3.5 billion in general obligation bonds. In addition the state is paying what is called rentals for another $552 million in revenue bonds issued by the Illinois Building Authority (IBA) and the Illinois Armory Board. The IBA was the predecessor of the current Capital Development Board (CDB). Under the former IBA, for instance, college dormitories were constructed and rents charged to students used to help retire the bonds.

The memorandum prepared for Totten, one of the Republican minority spokesman for appropriations in the House, says the total debt service outstanding now is $2.6 billion. Based on this the debt per capita would be $239.

The memorandum took issue with Gov. Dan Walker's per capita figure. The staff said the governor indicates in the budget book that the debt per capita is approximately $130. However, this apparently does not include bond issuance of $450 million for the current fiscal year, which ended June 30.

The per capita debt is what has Totten worried. When legislation seeking bond service money or any funds in that general area, Totten takes to the House floor to remind his fellow House members of the ever-mounting debt for individual taxpayers.

He figures sooner or later this area of spending will have a lasting impression on the legislators. He isn't giving up, either.

Totten's memorandum points out that for fiscal year 1977, the governor indicates the state will issue another $450 million in general obligation bonds. Over a period of 25 years it will cost the state $765 million to repay the bonds. This would increase the debt per capita by approximately $60 per person to around $300 per person.

In addition there have been other proposals introduced in the legislature to increase bond authorizations. Capital development bonds authorizations could be increased $155 million, school construction bond authorizations $100 million.

The memorandum continues that since bond funds are not current dollars they appear to be attractive as a source of funding for many projects. For instance in fiscal year 1977 the Transportation Department and the CDB plan to bond the construction management of capital projects. These normally were operating expenses.

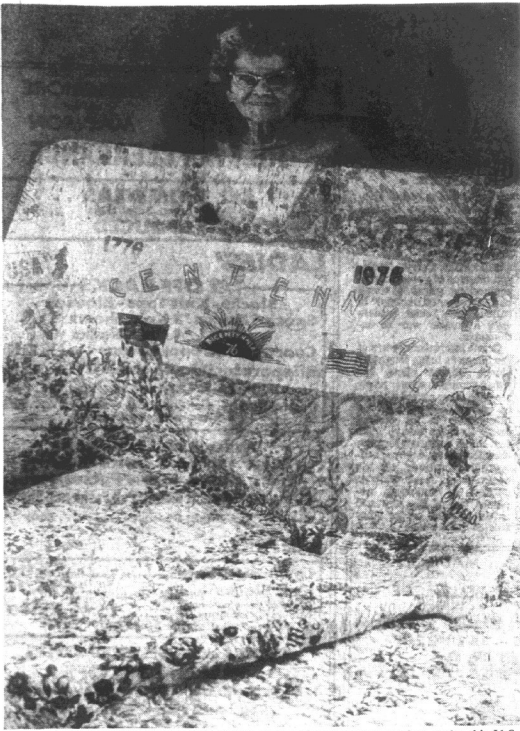

Totten's memorandum says in the past three years the criteria for bondable projects has diminished so that the state now bonds window replacement and minor repairs previously funded from current funds.

It asks the main question: where is the breaking point? What is the limit the state can absorb in future payments on borrowed money?

For instance, New York and Massachusetts have a debt service per capita of over $400 per resident and they have a high tax burden and financial difficulties.

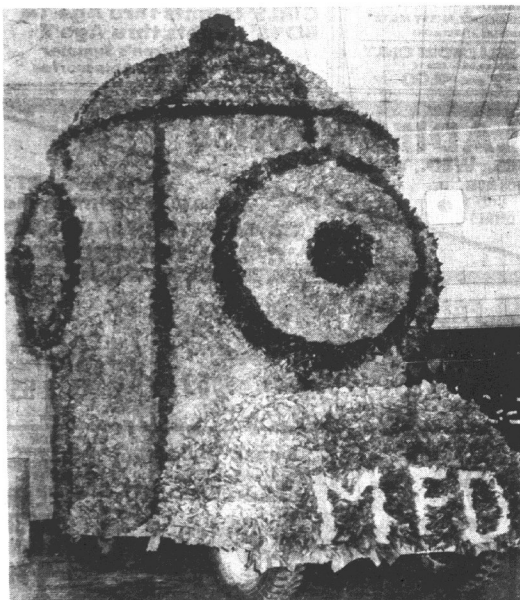

Totten says Illinois by comparison is well off. It has some $1.8 billion in unutilized but uncollected bonds.

This would translate into $2.1 billion in potential debt service. Combined with the present debt service of $2.6 billion, the Illinois debt service per capita could reach $450 per resident.

HANDKERCHIEF STATE MAPS of the 50 states were used to make this U.S. Bicentennial quilt by Mrs. Lucille Martin, 4010 Breckenridge Lane. The handkerchiefs are part of a large collection, numbering over 1,400, which she has gathered since 1955. Each has a map of a state, with key cities and historical points of interest marked.

Is Revolutionary War victor strong enough to survive?

Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles celebrating the Bicentennial. Each one describes a separate aspect of American life, as it appeared 200 years ago, as it stands today, and as it is likely to look in 2076, as envisioned by specialists in that particular field. This article deals with defense.

By ROBERT BETTS

America set out to win independence with a ragtag army of around 16,000 untrained, ill-equipped volunteers.

"A band of undisciplined husbandmen," George Washington called them. The assortment of weapons included knives, scythes, tomahawks, pikes, pistols and muskets. Benjamin Franklin suggested that muskets and arrows be added, but Congress politely rejected the proposal. The musket became the standard infantry weapon. It had a range of about 125 yards, and could be fired at the most two or three times a minute, and then only by a trained soldier. He had to pause after a few rounds to let the barrel cool off.

The shortage of ammunition was frightening. There was only enough powder for nine cartridges per man per day. The few heavy guns and other ordnance had been captured mostly from British forts in a few daring raids by early patriots.

Thanks to Washington's determined leadership, the help of some able officers and the readiness of men to fight in what they believed to be a worthy cause, the Continental Army soon was giving a good account of itself in battle. At the end of the war, more arms were captured. Supplies also were sent by France and other friendly nations, while Colonial factories stepped up output to help the patriots. Immigrant German gunsmiths in Pennsylvania introduced the Kentucky rifle. Although more accurate, it never replaced the musket entirely. Its heavy 6-foot barrel required a full minute to load — an inconvenience when redcoat was coming at you with a bayonet. It was useful for firing from cover at long range, however, and it gave the Americans a big advantage over the British.

A total of 184,000 men served in the Army during the Revolutionary War, although it never reached a peak strength of more than 22,000. Another 250,000 served in the Continental Navy and Marines. The Navy had 50 ships. Bold sea captains like John Paul Jones and Lambert Wickes crossed the ocean to worry the king's navy in European waters and capture several prizes. Also helping to stop British supplies reaching the American continent were some 200 privateers.

Finding the wherewithal to equip, feed and clothe its shivering, half-starved army was a problem for Congress. It had no power to levy taxes. It assumed power to contract debts, but only could appropriate the sum it needed against the separate Colonies and ask them to remit. It depended mainly for revenues on the issuance of paper money and upon domestic and foreign loans. Government certificates were issued to soldiers, farmers and shopkeepers for services rendered, for goods supplied and for moneys advanced. Since there was little gold or silver to back these "Continental," however, they were practically worthless by the time the war ended.

Cash cost of the Revolutionary War has been estimated at $101 million. In blood, the cost was 25,324 battle and other deaths, and 8,445 wounded, a total of 33,769 casualties. The sheer physical suffering — the grinding hunger and bitter cold of Valley Forge, the agony of unintended wounds and blistering thirst in the heat of battle — also has to be included in the price paid to realize the dream of a new nation, conceived in liberty.

Those simple, stout-hearted soldiers of 1776 could have had little conception of the sophisticated force that stands ready to defend the nation today. The musket, the loading musket and the cannon have given way to machine guns and missiles with atomic warheads. The speed of war is measured not by how fast a foot soldier can march or how much headway a sailing ship can make but by the streaking flight of a jet aircraft or of a rocket sent on its way by the press of a button.

Electronic "eyes" and "ears" make possible instant communication and the movements of an enemy can be detected day or night in any weather. In the era of long-range nuclear bombing and nuclear-armed intercontinental ballistic missiles, the nation's major strategic problem is security from possible attack by a hostile power. A radar, computer and communications network of early warning stations and a global air and space surveillance system keep constant guard against surprise attack.

More than two million men and women are on active duty in submarines and surface ships, at air and other land bases around the world. U.S. defense spending now approaches $100 billion a year. President Ford wants Congress to raise the figure to $127 billion in the coming fiscal year. Concerned at what he believes has been a steady slide in the nation's military standing, he has called for a shift in national priorities, increasing the share of resources devoted to the military.

Defense experts believe pressure on the United States from other nations is certain to increase, with strong challenges from ideological enemies as well as strident demands, from nonaligned nations and urgent requests from U.S. allies.

Some analysts predict a state of more or less "permanent revolution" around the world during the next century. Trends in international relations have led many to speculate that some kind of world government might evolve — unless nuclear holocaust occurs first.

Members of a recent Harvard-M.I.T. Arms Control Seminar concluded that nuclear war, in some form, will erupt before the end of the century.

Malcolm R. Currie, Pentagon director of research and engineering, warns "it would be a fundamental mistake" to believe that Soviet leaders view a nuclear war as unthinkable. Currie has pictured wars of the future as being fought by planes without pilots, between armies that may never see each other except as blips on an oscilloscope, with artillery able to hit moving tanks 10 miles away; guns that select their own targets; missiles that read maps; self-operated torpedoes on the ocean floor; laser cannons capable of knocking air planes out of the sky and satellite batteries on the other side of the moon.

Church to display 10 historic scenes

As part of the local celebration of the nation's 200th birthday, St. John United Church of Christ, 2601 N. Elm Road, will display early antiques from Madison County in the church fellowship hall Saturday. An old-style German band and refreshment tents will be located in an outdoor setting.

Mr. and Mrs. Udo Buschhoff are co-chairmen of the presentation of historic items, which will be open to the public without charge.

Following the community's Bicentennial parade, the public is being invited to tour 10 "historic scenes," each attended by a person attired in an authentic costume of its era.

The scenes will include: Church scene: The roped-off section will feature an old time pulpit, St. John's historic baptismal font from 1863, a foot pedal organ, a 150-year-old antique chair placed alongside the pulpit and a stained glass window.

Early school scene: The committee has an original school desk from Central School, a genuine school bell, an old-fashioned blackboard and eraser, inkwell, teacher's pointer, early school map and a teacher's desk.

Picture gallery scene: The "walk-through" area will feature old photographs of family reunions, weddings, outdoor scenes such as butchering, making apple butter, thrashing, hog socials, school and church picnics, a family going to church in "horse drawn buggy," a wagon hauling potatoes to the market in St. Louis and other activities.

Kitchen scene: An 1870 kitchen table, apple press, water pump, water bench with water basin for workers to wash hands outside before eating, coffee grinder and other items used during "thrashing days."

Parlor scene: Parlor furniture, wooden cradle, parlor lamp, a wooden outline of a fireplace mantel and pictures.

Workshop and tool shed scene: Harnesses, tools, anvil, tongs, carpenter's work bench, wagon wheels and equipment, single and double trees, a wagon jack, horse collars and a buggy whip.

Bedroom scene: A cradle, bed and 19th century trunk, a kerosene lamp, an old braided hooked rug, pitcher and bowl and a small bedside table, plus other items used in an early bedroom.

Rural yard scene: Early washing machine, an old cast-iron pump, wash basin, equipment used in butchering, copper kettle for making apple butter, an outside wash bench, farming tools, cross-cut saws and smokeshouse equipment.

Lincoln room scene: Authentic items relating to the life and times of President Lincoln.

Craft room scene: Old-fashioned spinning wheel and weaving equipment, a primitive loom, and many wood carvings popular in the middle 1800s.

Committee members plan an outdoor display near the entrance to Fellowship Hall. Beginning at noon, visitors to the exhibit will be invited into Fellowship Hall through double doors situated next to the outside air-conditioner.

After a tour of the facility, they will leave via the south stairway which opens into an area where the old parsonage was located.

In the outdoor setting, St. John's Brotherhood will operate a large tent offering hot dogs, coffee, soft drinks and other refreshments.

Youth Fellowship members will operate a booth decorated with balloons, and will sell ice cream and homemade cakes. The Chancel Choir will have snow cones available.

Entertainment will be furnished by a German band playing polkas and similar music.

A big Bicentennial birthday cake will be featured in the outdoor area, with the public invited to share the dessert.

Unanimous and early approval of city budget

Budgets totaling $7,084,157 were passed by the Granite City Council Monday night for the May 1976-April 1977 fiscal year.

The budgets are $6,332 higher than those approved a week earlier as a basis for preparation of the city's detailed appropriation ordinance.

Alderman Ronald Coleman, chairman of the council's finance committee, noted that engineering services and $2,500 had been added to the allocation for senior citizens' aid to help purchase a new bus.

The appropriation for engineering services had been left blank until an estimate of the costs of proposed engineering work could be prepared.

The additions, both to the general fund, brought the total for that fund and for special operating accounts to $6,143,375, which is $715,079 higher than last year's budget for those accounts.

The only other change made by the council Monday night was to place $5,000 in surplus funds in the federal revenue sharing fund into a fund for remodeling the Granite City Police Department garage area.

The change increased the funds for that remodeling from $1,500 to $6,500, but did not change the total revenue sharing fund for the fiscal year.

The new revenue sharing budget is $254,214 lower than last year's $1,188,487 budget.

Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward, a veteran councilman, commented after the budget was passed that it is the first time he can recall the city budget ever being passed unanimously.

Coleman also noted that it was the first time in many years that the city has not gone down to the July 31 deadline to enact the yearly budget and appropriation ordinance.

Mr. and Mrs. SPHAR NAME DAUGHTER LESLIE Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sphar of Collinsville are announcing the birth of a daughter on June 26 at Missouri Baptist Hospital, St. Louis.

The infant has been named Leslie Jane and has a 3-year-old sister Heather.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Feltz Jr. of Granite City. The paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sphar, reside in Panama City, Fla. Sphar is the former Lynette Petish.

1500 Pennsylvania Avenue, the best known residence and oldest Federal building in the United States. It dates back to 1790. The plans were chosen in an open contest. The winning plan was selected over one submitted anonymously by Thomas Jefferson.

Abigail Adams hung her washing in the East Room, and at Andrew Jackson's inauguration his exuberant friends almost caused a riot.

When the British burned the White House in 1814, nothing remained but the four walls. It has been rebuilt twice since then. Both times the original walls were retained and completely new interiors constructed.

Your family probably won't live in the White House. But you can live in almost any other house you choose. Ask your REALTOR to help you find the right one. You can count on his professional knowledge and experience for the fairest treatment and best advice.

"The regular order of business as established in Section 2.207 of this Code shall be followed on the meetings held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. The regular order of business, however, shall be dispensed with on the meeting held on the fourth Tuesday of each month, and the special order of business shall be followed as set forth in Section 2.207 hereof."

SECTION 2: Section 2.207 of Chapter 2 of the Municipal Code of the City of Granite City as previously amended by Ordinance No. 1991 shall be amended and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

"2.207. ORDER OF BUSINESS. The regular order of business at meetings of the City Council held on the first and third Tuesday of each month shall be as follows:

1. Roll Call,
2. Reading of minutes of previous meetings,
3. Presentation of petitions and communications,
4. Presentation of claims,
5. Reports of officers,
6. Reports of standing committees,
7. Reports of special committees,
8. Unfinished business,
9. New business,
10. Adjournment.

The special order of business which shall be followed at the meeting of the City Council held on the fourth Tuesday of each month shall be as follows:

1. Roll Call,
2. Reading of minutes of previous meeting,
3. Presentation of petitions and communications,
4. Adjournment for committee meetings.

SECTION 3: All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 4: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval as provided by law.

PASSED by the City Council of the City of Granite City, Illinois, this 28th day of June, A.D. 1976.

APPROVED by the Mayor of the City of Granite City, Illinois, this 28th day of June, A.D. 1976.

Weddings solemnized in summer ceremonies

MR. AND MRS. STEPHEN E. AVEDISIAN who were married in a candlelight ceremony at St. John United Church of Christ. Formerly Miss Denise E. Teetor the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Teetor, 1535 Clark Ave.

Denise Teetor marries Stephen E. Avedisian

Miss Denise E. Teetor, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Teetor, 1535 Clark Ave. of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Avedisian of Granite City, were united in marriage in a candlelight service on June 18 at St. John United Church of Christ.

Tall brass urns holding pyramid shaped bouquets of blue and white mums adorned the altar arranged with triple tiered candelabra holding burning tapers.

Wedding selections played by organist Mrs. Irene Rapp, before and throughout the ceremony, included "We've Only Just Begun," "Song of Peace," "Time In A Bottle," "More," "Till," and "Morning Has Broken."

The Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Mr. Teetor escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She wore a full length gown fashioned of polyester organza over taffeta designed with an oval neckline and sheer yoke accented with Chantilly lace.

Matching lace formed caplets at the shoulder of the full sleeves caught tightly at the wrists with lace cuffs. The slightly full A-line skirt was encircled at the hemline with a deep lace flounce.

Her long veil of bridal illusion was held in place with a lace Juliet cap and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, blue baby's breath interspersed with greenery and festooned with long blue satin streamers.

Matron of honor Mrs. Barbara Hasty chose a formal length gown designed with a blue voile floral posey print and ivory skirt in companion design terminating at the hemline with a blue gathered flounce.

She wore a picture hat and carried a nosegay of blue and white daisies and baby's breath.

Diane Koishor becomes Mrs. Albert G. Hudzik

Miss Diane Marie Koishor, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy S. Koishor, 2419 Washington Ave., became the bride of Albert G. Hudzik, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hudzik, 829 Greenwood St., Madison, in a candlelight ceremony at Sacred Heart Catholic Church on June 12.

Nuptial selections "Today," "Fellow Me," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Song For the Asking" and "Ode to Joy" were played by organist Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw and a group of guitarists who also sang.

Father James Newman officiated at the double ring service at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, before an altar adorned with bouquets of blue and white daisies.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Koishor, chose a full length gown of ivory organza fashioned with a high collar of Brussels lace which extended down the front of the gown to form a scalloped panel.

The long full sleeves were accented with matching lace and a blue ribbon defined the modified waistline.

She wore a lace Juliet cap to secure a fingertip veil of illusion and held a bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and blue tipped miniature carnations.

Maid of honor Miss Barbara Koishor, a sister of the groom and Miss Mary Kulaska, a cousin of the bride, They selected pale blue chiffon halter style gowns with Empire waistlines, complemented with matching short capes tied at the neckline with tiny bows.

Each attendant held a nosegay of white and blue daisies and pom poms. Candelighters Miss Theresa Kulaska and Miss Linda Lybarger were attired in blue and white floral dresses.

The groom chose Richard Sbabo as his best man. Groomsmen included Rudy S. Koishor Jr., a brother of the bride, Frank Derner and Alan Downs.

Escorting the guests to their seats was Richard Koishor, another brother of the bride and Dwight Kutz.

A reception was held at the Croatian Home in Madison and the rehearsal dinner was hosted at Charlie's Restaurant.

The newly married couple is now residing in Madison following a wedding trip to Hawaii.

The bride graduated from St. Teresa Academy and received a B.S. degree in 1974 from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She is a graduate student at SIUE where she is majoring in special education, and is currently a teacher of learning disabilities and behavioral disorders at West Junior High School, Belleville.

A Madison High School graduate, the groom also graduated in 1973 from the University of Illinois with a degree in accounting. He is employed as comptroller for the city of Madison.

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT G. HUDZIK who were married in an afternoon ceremony at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. The bride is formerly Miss Diane Marie Koishor, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy S. Koishor, 2419 Washington Ave.

Harrison-Evans wedding at Sacred Heart Church

Miss Kathleen M. Evans, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Evans, 2731 Iowa St. and Carl W. Harrison Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harrison Sr., 2133 Woodlawn Ave., were united in marriage on May 22 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

The couple exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in the presence of Father James P. Hill, before an altar decorated with bouquets of blue and white summer flowers.

Miss Melanie Asadorian sang, "Sunrise, Sunset," "If," "We've Only Just Begun" and "The Wedding Song." She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw.

Escorted to the altar by her father the bride wore a white mira mist over taffeta Empire style gown designed with a high neckline accented with a Chantilly lace ruffle which was repeated on the cuffs of the long fitted sleeves.

The semi full skirt was encircled with a gathered flounce and extended into a cathedral train.

A lace headpiece secured her veil of bridal illusion and she held a colonial bouquet of white carnations interspersed with purple statice, blue, yellow and pink carnations and baby's breath.

Bridal attendants Miss Karen Evans, a sister of the bride, Mrs. Susan Wylie, Miss Rita Ahlers and Miss Cheryl Schaus chose formal length pastel blue polyester knit gowns. The dresses were fashioned with V-necklines and full skirts.

complemented with matching bolero jackets created with short cape sleeves edged in a pique trim.

Each wore a white picture hat trimmed with blue ribbon and carried a colonial bouquet of multi-color carnations and white daisies.

Mark Schmisser served as best man with groomsmen David and Bill Harrison, brothers of the groom and Ed Zaruba.

Seating the guests were Eric Schmisser, Ron Harrison, a cousin of the groom and David Schmisser.

Cynthia Weikener, a cousin of the bride, attended the guest book at a reception hosted at Holy Trinity Hall in Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, parents of the groom, entertained the bridal party at a rehearsal dinner at Petri's Restaurant.

Both mothers selected full length mint green gowns and wore corsages of yellow Sweetheart roses.

The bride and groom are Granite City High School graduates. The former Miss Evans is employed at the Federal Reserve Bank, St. Louis and her husband works as assistant manager of McDonald's Restaurant in Edwardsville.

They are residing in Granite City after a wedding trip to Tan-A-R Resort in Missouri.

ministrator of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA), gave that opinion in discussing details of "Call for Achievement," a national program promoting citizen participation in the planning and decision-making process at the community level.

"Across the land, in communities large and small, people in all walks of life have gotten together to plan and carry out successfully thousands of projects and programs," Warner said. He added, "The involvement of diverse community elements in joint efforts is itself an important contribution to the Bicentennial."

"Call for Achievement" invites citizens to make the transition from planning and organizing Bicentennial programs, which commemorate the past two centuries, to planning and implementing community action programs which will improve the quality of life in the third century.

The program is based on the principle that every citizen has the right, as well as the responsibility, to contribute to the local governing process.

"Call for Achievement" recognizes the need to bridge the communication gap between citizens and their local decision-makers, Warner concluded.

Yummy Bicentennial cakes tempt the tummy

It is the usual thing to do for a birthday party—to bake a cake. But when it is a special birthday, like the 200th birthday of a nation, cake bakers outdo themselves in concocting the biggest, the best, the most creative cakes they can make.

Bakers around the country are doing just that for America's birthday party this July Fourth weekend.

The biggest, the real superstar of Bicentennial birthday cakes, will be displayed July 3 in Philadelphia's Memorial Hall in Fairmount Park. The five-story-high chocolate cake will be 42 feet across at the base and will weigh in at 49,000 pounds.

Super-sized layers will be baked, assembled and frosted in the Sara Lee company's New Hampton, Iowa, plant.

Decorations designed at company headquarters in Deerfield, Ill., will be added to the cake at Philadelphia. The cake and decorations will be transported from Deerfield to Philadelphia in a five-truck convoy, with stops en route to display the scale model.

The red, white and blue cake will be decorated with seals of all the states and territories of the United States, as well as 120 historic scenes from the past, and topped by an American eagle.

A team of pastry chefs, headed by Cornelius Sinkeldam, coach of the U.S. Culinary Olympic team, will decorate the colossal chocolate confection. After the festivities, the cake will be disassembled and donated to charitable institutions in the Philadelphia area.

Bicentennial birthday cakes are a citywide effort in Brownsville, Texas. For the last two years, Brownsville youngsters have been collecting and selling cans to recycling plants in order to raise $1,300 for ingredients. And it is not ordinary birthday cake that will reward them for their efforts.

Peggy Quethorst of Tiffany Bakery is baking 200 sheet cakes, each decorated with a scene from American history. The cakes will be displayed as a patchwork quilt, measuring 12 by 18 feet, in Brownsville's Amigoland Shopping Mall on July 4. A replica of Independence Hall will serve as the centerpiece and, at 6:30 p.m., slices of cake will be served free to the public.

The National Archives will cut a red, white and blue birthday cake at the opening ceremony of a unique tribute to the Declaration of Independence, on July 2.

The 36-inch dummy base will be decorated with a huge "Happy Birthday." A two-tier butter pound cake baked and decorated by Buddy Byram of Clement's Bakery of Washington will feature red, white and blue bunting on the second tier and a large "200" on the top tier. Red, white and blue roses holding American flags will decorate the top of the cake.

The Archives cake will be cut with an American sword from the Archives' collection and slices will be given to visitors who have filed through the rotunda to view the Declaration of Independence and sign a special guestbook.

At 1:30 on the Fourth the cake will be brought out for serving on the Archives portico, as the U.S. Army Band plays "Happy Birthday."

The Declaration of Independence will be on public view for 76 consecutive hours during the July Fourth Bicentennial weekend, beginning on the evening of July 2. A military honor guard will star guard on the Declaration the entire day of July 4.

The Scott County Hospital Ladies Auxiliary will sell slices of cake in Huntsville, Tenn., as part of Scott County's Bicentennial festivities at noon July 3 at the county courthouse.

County Judge Verda Cope will choose the favorite cake in this Bicentennial weekend cake and cookie baking contest. The Fantastic Frosters of Great Falls, Mont., are holding a cake baking contest, specifying that the entries be decorated around the theme of the country's 200th birthday.

They plan to feed cake to 2,000 people at the state fairgrounds, as part of Montana's biggest Bicentennial weekend celebration.

Three trophies will be presented to the winners of the individual category and three for commercially-baked cakes. At 12:30 on the 4th, the cakes will be judged and, at 3 p.m., a fifth grader dressed as Uncle Sam will cut and serve the first prize cake. The whole community will sing "Happy Birthday, America."

In Champaign, Ill., the entire population is being invited to bring a birthday cake to the open area across from the University of Illinois football stadium after the Fourth of July parade. Bicentennial themes are expected to dominate the cake decorations. Eisner's Grocery Store will provide a large birthday cake to be given away at the evening's festivities which will end with a fireworks display in the stadium.

KC COUNCIL HONORED. The Tri-City Knights of Columbus Council No. 1098 was honored by KC state officials for the greatest increase of money collected in the annual Tootsi Roll sales. This year the local members collected over $2,000 more than last year. All proceeds go to help handicapped and mentally retarded citizens in the Quad-Cities. From left, William "Bill" Balke, district state deputy; A. L. "Pete" Metcalf, deputy grand knight of Council 1098 and local sales chairman; Dr. John Vasiloff, state welfare chairman, and Council 1098 Grand Knight Frank Kierski.

The Baltimore Bicentennial Committee is selling 400,000 slices of Bicentennial birthday cake ($2.25 a slice) to finance historic restoration projects in the city. A plywood dummy cake in the shape of the Continental United States will contain frosted, pre-wrapped slices of butter pound cake in souvenir Bicentennial boxes.

At midnight on July 3, the 50x20x8-foot cake will be floated on a barge from Baltimore's Inner Harbor to Ft. McHenry, where the barge will be docked and 200 electric candles will be lighted.

Herman's Bakery in Baltimore has been baking 1,000 pounds of cake per day since the first of June. The frozen cakes are being shipped to Philadelphia for wrapping and packaging, and then shipped back for the Bicentennial weekend celebration in Baltimore.

In the dummy cake category, Frances Nave of the Weight Bakery in Johnson City, Tenn., will produce a large "cake" sporting 200 candles which will be placed on an old-time wagon as part of the July Fourth parade in Jonesboro, Tenn.

Jonesboro, the oldest town in Tennessee, has just completed a two-year renovation project, and its "Historic Jonesborough Days" celebration during the Bicentennial weekend is expected to draw upwards of 100,000 visitors. Mrs. Nave's cake float will feature red, white and blue liberty bells and '76 flags.

A three-story-high dummy, Happy Birthday America cake is the finale of Hoory U.S.A., a special Bicentennial extravaganza opening July 4 at the Miami Beach Convention Center. The production follows major historical periods beginning with July 4, 1776, and ending with the 1969 landing on the moon.

As the final song is sung, the giant red, white and blue "cake" will be rolled out to the center of the hall, lighted by 200 electric candles, and the whole house will sing "Happy Birthday America."

Whether pretend or real, colossal or cupcake size,

Professional, technical jobs likely to increase

Between 1974 and 1985, growth in professional and technical jobs—those that usually require a college degree—is expected to continue to outpace the rate for all occupations combined.

Demand will be strong in the health field and in such specialties as engineering, personnel and labor relations work, social work and systems analysis.

But teaching occupations will continue to be overcrowded with jobseekers, and competition in the law field will continue and intensify.

These are some of the findings regarding information on job prospects in the years ahead revealed in the 1976-77 edition of the "Occupational Outlook Handbook," just released by the U. S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Other findings on job prospects between 1974 and 1985 reveal that:

- The clerical field, largest occupational group, is expected to be the fastest growing major group. Occupations that will grow faster than average are secretaries and stenographers, typists, receptionists and bank clerks and tellers. Demand also will be strong in occupations related to electronic data processing operations.

—The great majority of the 58 million job openings expected through 1985 will stem from the need to replace workers who die or retire. Only about 30 per cent of the jobs that will become available will result from employment growth.

About 80 per cent of these 58 million openings will be in jobs not requiring a four-year college degree. Rapid employment growth is expected for construction machinery operators, workers in lithographic occupations, police officers, waste water treatment plant operators, workers in most para-professional health occupations, and mechanics and repairers.

Post-high school training, such as that obtained through apprenticeship and junior and community college programs, will be of increasing importance as educational requirements in many clerical, sales, service and craft occupations continue to rise.

The format of the 1976-77 edition contains information on the short-run effects of business cycles on job opportunities as well as long-run expectations. The new "Handbook" uses the revised job titles developed for the "Dictionary of Occupational Titles" and includes expanded information on high school courses that are useful preparation for each occupation.

A key addition, designed to help both students and counselors, is the guide on how to use the "Handbook."

Published every two years by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the handbook is a primary source of vocational guidance information.

For each of the hundreds of occupations that are discussed, the book describes: what the work is like, personal qualifications, working conditions, earnings, future job outlook, chances for advancement and where to find additional information.

The 800-page 1976-77 edition of the "Occupational Outlook Handbook" (BLS Bulletin 1872) is priced at $7. It may be ordered from regional offices of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, making the check or money order payable to the Superintendent of Documents.

The offices include:

9th Floor Federal Office Bldg., 230 S. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60604.

Burnt stolen truck

A tractor truck which had been stolen from the Wagon Wheel Truck Stop, 3007 Edwardsville Road—stripped and then returned to that location—was found burning late last week.

Granite City firemen extinguished the blaze, which caused damage estimated at $3,000.

The truck had been parked originally by Don Anglin, 3209 Rodger Ave. After the fire, he noted that the tires on the tractor had been removed and replaced with old tires.

Stolen were the 40-foot flatbed trailer, 10 tires and wheels, three air hoses, two batteries, an alternator and a regulator.

—The great majority of the 58

United Steelworkers joint committee elects

The following have been elected as officers of the Joint United Steelworkers Committee for a new three-year term: Jim Kelahan of Local 67, chairman and president; Bert Byron of Local 68, secretary and treasurer; and Burl Hand of Local 30, vice-president.

The Joint Committee is the governing body for the 2,700 members of the four production and maintenance local unions at Granite City Steel.

Other members of the Joint Committee are Gerald Teller of Local 16, Joe Simpson of Local 30, Ed Boyer of Local 67, John Boneau of Local 68 and Brandon Mathis of Local 16.

HILES ON DEANS'S LIST
Bradley S. Hiles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hiles of Granite City, was included in the spring term dean's list at Furman University, Greenville, S.C.

The dean's list is comprised of full-time undergraduate students who earn a grade point average of 3.2 or better on Furman's four-point system. The list is compiled at the end of each of Furman's three terms.

Donald Rains is new 'Y' program director

Donald Rains has assumed the duties of program director of the Tri-City Area YMCA, it was announced today by Harold Rudolph, executive director. Rains, the son of Mrs. Norma Rains and the late Adnan Rains, resides at 2210 Dewey Ave.

He has been working as a substitute teacher for the Granite City School District and formerly was an umpire and security guard with the Granite City Park District. Graduating from Granite City High School, Rains earned a baseball scholarship to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where he lettered for four years as a pitcher. He also received honors as a college athlete in 1971 and 1972. He is a member of the Second Baptist Church.

State employee association backs 3 Demos; 2 GOPs

The board of directors of the Illinois State Employees Association has broken a 59-year tradition and voted to endorse political candidates for the November general election. "ISEA must play an active role in the political arena if it is to have its voice heard and protect its 12,000 members," President Joseph T. Pisano told the directors at a quarterly meeting.

The union endorsed five candidates for statewide office in the March primary election and has reaffirmed those endorsements for the general election.

The five are Democrats Michael J. Howlett for governor, Neil F. Hartigan for lieutenant governor and Alan J. Dixon for secretary of state, and Republicans George W. Lindberg for comptroller and William J. Scott for attorney general.

Howlett addressed the directors shortly after they endorsed him. He said, "To avoid higher taxes, employees and officeholders must work together to improve the productivity of state government." Pisano added, "We need a governor with the proven ability to handle fiscal matters. Mike Howlett can get Illinois through its financial crisis. He can work well with the legislature. We can once again have government by reason, not by confrontation."

BENNY GOODMAN appears ageless as the veteran musician plays the clarinet at a Mississippi River Festival concert here last week.

Big band era recalled by Benny Goodman's artistry

As the Fourth of July approaches, marking the nation's 200th birthday, many are looking back to the contributions of the past. Most clearly visible are the things that have survived because of superior quality. The music of the "big band" era is being called one of the outstanding aspects of the nation's past that has not only survived but is still "going strong."

The popularity of the band era was evident during last week's concert performance at the Mississippi River Festival, when one of the top musicians and originators of the big band sound, Benny Goodman, proved that such music is not just a once-popular memory.

Goodman, along with his new seven-member band, demonstrated that the big band sound appeals to today's generation and also that musicians of today can play his music with the feeling, dedication and enthusiasm of his original band back in the '30s and '40s.

The audience, young and old, could be seen moving to the beat and obviously enjoying the excitement aroused by the musicians and their music. Goodman and his band members received five standing ovations. When they were finally allowed to leave the stage, members of the audience, with dazed expressions, could be heard telling how "goose bumps" popped up on their flesh during such numbers as "Satin Doll," "Tangerine," "Dancing at the Savoy" and "Sing, Sing, Sing."

Goodman, along with the other musicians who originated the big band sound, note that they cannot live forever, but voice the hope that their music can live on. Perhaps generations 200 years from now will still be enjoying the sounds that kept Americans enthralled for several decades of this century, he speculates.

STATE POLICE HONORED. The National Safety Council has presented two awards to the Illinois State Police — "best overall performance award" and "best performance by a state police department or highway patrol." From left to right are State Police Superintendent Dwight E. Pitman, Sergeant Robert J. Brandt, director of the safety education section of the state police, and Ray Martinez, director of training for the National Safety Council.

Safety group honors Illinois state police

The National Safety Council has presented two awards to the Illinois State Police for teaching the Council's defensive driving course to 22,915 Illinois drivers in 1975.

Dwight E. Pitman, state police superintendent, accepted the awards on behalf of troopers assigned to districts throughout Illinois who gave the eight-hour course to nearly twice as many people as they had in 1974.

Of the 1,556 agencies registered with the National Safety Council, the Illinois state police were given "best overall performance award" and the "best performance by a state police department or highway patrol."

According to Pitman, the state police have trained over 77,000 drivers since the program was first offered in 1968. "We would like to train every Illinois driver, but since there are over six million Illinoisans licensed to drive, that is impossible. I am proud of what the Safety Education Section has been able to accomplish," he said.

The state police offer the defensive driving course to any group of 15 or more persons requesting it.

According to Captain Albert J. Bertagnoli, District 11 commander at Maryville, the state police purpose in providing this course is to reduce the number of accidents on Illinois highways.

"Studies conducted by the National Safety Council show a significant reduction in the number of accidents experienced in fleets where the DDC is a part of driver training," Bertagnoli said.

Urge close supervision of fireworks

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

With the approach of the Fourth of July, many families are making plans to make their Bicentennial Independence Day celebration something special. Unfortunately, some Illinois families will include fireworks as part of the festivities.

For all their patriotic significance, fireworks present a serious safety hazard, particularly for children.

In spite of the fact that the sale or use of fireworks is limited in Illinois to those who have permits, public health officials estimate that, in 1974 and 1975, nearly 500 injuries, associated with fireworks, were treated at hospital emergency rooms.

Nearly 90 per cent of the injuries were caused by fireworks privately purchased by individuals, while only 11 per cent were associated with public fireworks displays.

Burns and lacerations were the primary types of fireworks injuries. Despite the danger and the illegality of using fireworks, they will be a part of many families' July 4 celebrations.

For those planning to use fireworks, the state health department has some tips to help you use them more safely.

Fireworks should be used only with extreme caution. Before using any of them, read and follow all warning instructions printed on the label.

Remember that fireworks are not toys for children. The sparkler, considered by many the ideal "safe" firework for the young, generates temperatures between 1200 and 2000 degrees and can easily ignite clothing.

Severe damage to vacant home

Vandals caused extensive damage to a vacant house at 2023 Dewey Ave. before stealing a $389 natural gas heater, a wrecking bar, a hammer, nails and three light bulbs from the house, it was discovered during the weekend.

All the inside wall panels were broken and the electrical wiring was torn out. Closet doors were torn off and damaged.

Sayings, including "Helter Skelter" and "Pot is the best," were written on many of the walls. Entry was believed gained through an upstairs window.

The home is owned by Gene Hollis, Wichita, Kan., and was being remodeled by Jess Hollis, 2047 Lee Ave.

Do not allow younger children to play with fireworks under any circumstances. They cannot appreciate the danger involved, and cannot react correctly in case of an emergency.

If you permit older children to use fireworks, be sure they use them only under close adult supervision. Do not allow any running or horseplay while they are being used.

State health officials want every Illinoisan to have a memorable Bicentennial celebration, and suggest that perhaps a July 4 without any fireworks injuries would be an appropriate way to mark the nation's 200th birthday.

Herman Delaloyes visit in Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Delaloye, 2693 Washington Ave., have returned from a two week trip to Lawton, Okla., where they visited their son and daughter-in-law, Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Thomas (Waltraud) Delaloye.

"The local service man is stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., and had just been promoted to his present rank. He has served in the Army for eight years with four years spent in Germany."

Sgt. Delaloye returned to this country in December 1973 and is presently motor sergeant for the service battery of the First Battalion, 18th Field Artillery, at Fort Sill.

FIRE CALL AT LIBRARY

A ballast in a light fixture overheated and began to smoke at the Granite City Public Library, 2001 Delmar Ave., during the weekend, causing firemen to be summoned. Firemen were there 25 minutes and held damage to about $25.

How many times, as we go about our daily lives, do we pass by "Old Glory" without really seeing our nation's flag.
